Sewerage Authority Holds a Meeting, Finds Something's Rotten in Denmark

A sewage treatment plant that smells is nobody's friend

The new Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority treatment plant on River Road had been pumping along in a docile kind of way ever since it went into operation on January 4. And then.....

"Get this out!" was the word from Authority members to engineers Metcalf and Eddy when the Authority found itself uncomfortable indeed in its own meeting room at the plant.

"It's a damned outrage!" exploded Township Committee member Hugo Hoogenboom at Committee's meeting last Wednesday. "We ought to put Metcalf and Eddy in that room until this problem is solved."

But plant director Robert Harvey takes a quieter view.

"We've had a fairly smooth and successful start-up," he says. "I've heard lots worse horror stories from other communities."

He did say, however, that fixing the plant so it won't happen again will cost something over $50,000. And the Authority's member communities will have to bear it, not Metcalf and Eddy. That's because it's an "oversight" and not a "mis-design," Mr. Harvey explained.

Ironically, the smell is part of the process of cleaning up, so to speak. When the actual malfunction was going on, there was no odor.

As Mr. Harvey explains it, engineers at the plant took one of the tanks out of service in March. It had been needed during winter months, but it was retired when storms and cold ended.

Taking that tank out of service gave part of the sludge a chance to get into the "process" water system and thence into the sludge storage system, fouling up sludge already there.

"The design engineers didn't realize that when you take a tank out of service, tanks in service would back up into the empty one," Mr. Harvey said. "Also, our strainers got filled up," he added.

All this meant that sludge couldn't be "de-watered" so it could be burned.

"We're now trying to digest it," Mr. Harvey continues. "That means taking this unstable organic material and adding oxygen to stabilize it so that it doesn't degrade any further. It was when we put it into another tank to aerate it that we got the smell."

Normally, sludge is under what Mr. Harvey calls "a blanket" of six or eight feet of water and this keeps odors down.

"I'd say it's about 1,000 percent better than it was a week ago," Mr. Harvey said, with some relief. "There is still some in one of our two thickeners and we must transfer that to a storage tank and aerate it."

Decisions in Next Week to Play Part In Shaping Princeton's Future Look

The look of Princeton between now and the year 2000 is the underlying theme of a scattering of seemingly unrelated meetings to be held during the next week.

A parking garage, luxury housing, public housing, old housing, how to get from one place to another, and how to calculate Princeton's "fair share" of housing for the region, as required by the courts ... all these are involved.

John Fujiwara, the architect whose team will design Princeton's first public parking garage will be in Borough Hall this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to talk with the public about parking garages.

Earlier, he will confer with Borough Council (5 p.m.), and then with the Public Library, Palmer Square and the new Benson Building developers (6:00) about that Witherspoon-Spring area where the garage will be.

"He's going to talk with the public about his ideas for the library parking lot site," said Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week. "He'll show drawings of various buildings. He'll talk about whether we make a bridge over Spring Street and put part of the garage there. Things like zoning ordinance problems, scale and aesthetics and traffic flow will probably determine whether we cross Spring Street."

"It also depends on whether we want commercial space — stores and offices — in the garage building

We have to co-ordinate with the library's expansion plans, the new Benson Building and Palmer Square's expansion plans, too. Mr. Fujiwara is a really fascinating speaker, he's very articulate, and I think the public will want to hear his ideas."

The town's first parking garage may well be a landmark, but older landmarks are very much in the news, too. The Chamber of Commerce and the Historical Society of Princeton will be hosts next Monday to all the individuals and groups with conflicting ideas about the Borough's (and, to come, the Township's) proposed Landmarks ordinance.

Mr. Harvey reports no specific complaints from people who live near by. Township Committee member David Blair, who lives at the corner of River Road and the Princeton - Kingston Road, urged Committee to write the Authority, urging that body, in turn, to press Metcalf and Eddy to repair what seems to be a design flaw.

"Metcalf and Eddy will make the design change," Mr. Harvey promised. He added that the cost of the change will depend on how deeply the Authority decides to probe the problem.

Both Princetons are members of the Authority, along with Hopewell Borough and Township, Pennington, West Windsor and South Brunswick. So far, only the two Princetons, West Windsor and South Brunswick are paying customers, and only the two Princeton's contribute sewage.

Everybody hopes that this meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. in John Witherspoon School, can reconcile these different and differing ideas. The ordinance itself will be back on Council's agenda for June 13.

Before Monday's discussion relating to houses built a century ago, the town's two Zoning Boards will be considering two proposals for houses to be built today.

This Wednesday, the Township Zoning Board will continue last month's hearing on plans to develop Constitution Hill - itself quite a landmark -- with houses that have flats in them, and to convert the old Jacobean

This Thursday, the Borough Zoning Board will hear the request of Design Interface - the J. Robert Hillier group -- to move the Borough's R-3 zone line north to Nassau so that 12 townhouses and a mini-park can be built on the George Bush property at the corner of Nassau and Markham.

The Bush house would be torn down. But parts of it, like the porte-cochere, side porch, oak panelling and stairway window, would be removed and given to the Historical Society of Princeton which would sell them in a fund-raising effort.

Belonged to University. Originally, the house was the home of Princeton University President James McCosh. Later it belonged to Quadrangle Club. It was moved to its present location from Prospect Street.

Mr. Hillier, who already has 60 applications for the $150,000 (or up) units, plans eight houses fronting on Sergeant and four on Nassau (farther back, he says, than the present Bush house). The white-washed brick structures, lower and wider than Hillier houses on Moore and Willow, would be built around a kind of court.

The Bush driveways would be erased and residents would enter from Wilton along a new, cobbled street, exiting into Markham. Each unit would have its own private garden, "breakfast balcony" off the kitchen and overlooking the cobbled street, three bedrooms and a two-car garage. It is not planned as a condominium.

The mini-park would occupy about a quarter of an acre on Nassau across from the Sheehan Building. The entire property is one- and one-quarter acres.

An informal survey seems to indicate that about half the neighbors favor the development and half are opposed.

A Matter for Zoners. Sharing the agenda with Mr. Hillier is 19 Vandeventer, teetering on the border between residential and office areas, too big for today's living and so far, never quite making it to office use. A prospective buyer would like to use it for his investment offices.

Public housing, also brick and -- some of it -- also whitewashed, is on Franklin across from the Medical Center. These units, well-built but some 40 years old, need rehabilitation.

Next Tuesday at 5 p.m. in Borough Hall, Council will hold the required public hearing on an application for Federal money to spruce them up. No actual dollar request has yet been made; this is a "pre-application."

At least one Council member -- Leona Medvin -- had suggested tearing down the two projects which have a total of 20 units, and using the land for more units, perhaps in a mid-rise apartment. That suggestion has not been followed.

About That Bike Path. Another suggestion that hasn't -- quite -- been followed is the advice of Elm Road residents to take away the bike path. Residents now say they want a four-foot wide asphalt walk, instead of the concrete one set up in the most recent Elm Road ordinance.

Council is going to rip up the four-foot ordinance, and go back to the six-foot wide asphalt one it wanted originally, whether residents protest or not. And although that bike path may not change the face of Princeton, it will alter the appearance of Elm Road.

And then, the tough one: the Mt. Laurel court decision says "developing" municipalities must provide their "fair share" of low-moderate housing for the region. How to calculate it?

Carleton Ryffel, Princeton's professional planner, says the Borough is not "developing" so the burden falls on the Township.

In weeks to come, the Planning Board's housing committee will be considering just how to calculate that "fair share." Population for the year 2000: an estimated 30,000 compared to today's 27,000. Appearance: "developed," with a parking garage or two, and landmarks you may not even have thought of.

LIGHTS FOR TENNIS

This Summer, "They'll be ready by summer!" smiled tennis-playing Township Mayor Josie Hall happily last Wednesday night, as Township Committee passed an ordinance providing an additional $17,500 for tennis court lighting.

The extra money was necessary because the Recreation Department is installing lights that are designed not to bother neighbors, and these lights turn out to be expensive. The original $30,000 cost has gone out of the court to $45,000. Total cost is $51,000. Of that, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer are donating $15,000 and the balance goes to the consultant, lawyers and legal advertising.

Committee, uneasy about how much light will be "enough," stipulated that light-meter tests be made after lights are installed.

Residents of Race Street petitioned Committee last fall to do something about parking. People park their cars around the clock, seven days a week, residents said. This has meant a decline in municipal services because snow-plows and leaf-vacuums can't clean the streets.

A new ordinance sets up an alternate - side - of - the - street system. Public hearing next Wednesday, May 3.

Culvert Planned For Snowden. Killam associates, which has done water studies for the Township in the past, will do hydraulic studies on the effect of a proposed 20-foot culvert at Snowden Lane. The $1,000 cost will be shared, half and half, with the Borough.

Discussion set up a watershed with Mayor Hall on one side and Committee member David Blair on the other. Water in people's houses is the crucial thing, he said. Erosion is the crucial thing, she said.

"I don't want to take water from somebody's living-room in the Borough and put it in somebody else's, downstream in the Township," he declares. "If there is some erosion downstream, it can easily be fixed."

"Erosion is a far more insidious problem," the mayor retorted, "15 or 20 years from now, when we're losing trees."

She added that she wanted to know whether there exists "a storm" which would jeopardize downstream Township properties no matter what kind of culvert is put in, no matter what is done.

Administrator Joseph R. Nini reported that Killam could have work completed within a week. The firm will extend its studies as far east as Locust Lane.

Court Appeal Weighed. Committee hopes to decide May 3 whether to appeal the decision of Superior Court Judge George Y. Schoch that Committee isn't entitled to hear an appeal from the Planning Board's approval of a Brookstone subdivision. It is not yet known whether residents making the appeal have decided to go to a higher court.

Committee member Hugo Hoogenboom said he didn't think the Township had much chance of success in an appeal; however, attorney Ivan Bash, handling the case for the Township, is said to feel there is a reasonable chance. Mayor Hall reported. Mr. Bash and Planning Board attorney Allen Porter will both be present at the May 3 meeting.

Committee introduced the Federally-required soil erosion and sediment control ordinance and scheduled public hearing for May 3. If municipalities do not pass their own ordinance, the county Soil Conservation Service will handle all matters of erosion and sediment control. The Township's new land use ordinance covers the same ground, and Committee plans to make sure the new measure doesn't duplicate fees and requirements of the land use law.

FUEL FROM WASTE?

Still Interested. Not much encouragement came from solid waste experts earlier this year when the Princeton Environmental Commission brought up the subject of converting garbage to fuel for the new sewer plant.

But the Commission, undaunted, is proceeding with a study anyway. A group of seven has been named to find out whether it's possible to convert unrecyclable solid waste - i.e., garbage - into energy in the old sewer plant, and possibly using that energy to run the new sewer plant next door.

If this use for the old plant doesn't seem practicable, the group is charged with recommending other uses. In addition, the seven will explore mandatory recycling: which means a law requiring all householders to separate paper, metal and glass.

Throughout, the group will keep in close touch with the Mercer County Improvement Authority, whose approval is required for any solid waste plan. Members will also inquire about the availability of state or Federal funds.

H. Philip Minis, chairman of the Environmental Commission, in a letter to the two mayors, suggested that Princeton is in a fortunate position. It has the unused old plant with a possible market for its energy product right next door. The community still hasn't turned recyclables "from an expense into income." Also, there is an expandable area of operation; if the two Princetons don't produce enough, there are Rocky Hill, Kingston and South Brunswick.

"Our objective," Mr. Minis said, "is to see if this combination of circumstances can be fitted into a plan that in turn, can be co-ordinated with that of the Mercer County Improvement Authority."

Committee members are Michael Antal, professor of engineering at Princeton University; Evelyn Geddes, a member of both the Regional Health Commission and the Environmental Commission; Marian Moffat, chairman of the 1974 Solid Waste Committee; Denyse Reid, who worked on the 1974 Solid Waste Committee and is on the Environmental Commission; William P. Starr, formerly of both the Sewer Operating Committee and the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority; William H. Walker, for the Environmental Commission and the Planning Board, and Mr. Minis.

20 SIGN UP

For Borough Consolidation Group. Twenty Borough residents from every election district except Seven, have joined to form a Steering Committee for Consolidation. A similar group has been formed in the Township.

At last Thursday's work session, Borough Council members, after a brief, low-key discussion, decided not to introduce at this time an ordinance which would put a consolidation study on the November ballot. Instead, they said, consolidation supporters could solicit signatures for a petition to place the question on the ballot.

Jay Bleiman, of the Township Steering Committee, said this week that his group would probably follow the petition route also, so that the process would be the same in both Borough and Township.

The new municipal consolidation law, signed by Governor Brendan T. Byrne in March, says that a consolidation study may be placed on the ballot if a petition is signed by ten percent of the number of those who voted in the last general election. In the Borough, this means 321 signatures; in the Township, 552 signatures.

Members of the Borough Steering Committee are: Louise Bessire, 25 Mercer; Wilbert Brooks, 188 John; Charlotte Gipson, 10 MacLean; R. Claire Guthrie, 16 E. Stanworth; Elizabeth Hendry, 15 Chestnut; Ralph D. Hulit, Jr., 94 Linden Lane; Zelda Laschever, 39 Scott Lane; Ann McGoldrick, 25 Vandewater; Niels H. Nielsen, 99 Moore; Joseph P. O'Neill, 53 Gordon Way; Henry J. Powsner, 4 Queenston Place; Andrew Rinear, 73 Blair Hall; Ingrid Reed, 21 Maple; Kenneth Rendall, Jr., 218 Prospect; William K. Selden, 58 Westcott; Chester R. Stroup, 8 Erdman; Irvin Urken, 52 Aiken; William H. Walker, 168 Westcott; Sarah K. Wilhelm, 88 Moore; Mary S. Wisnovsky, 179 Prospect.

"FORRENT"?

Landlords Urged to Advertise. Landlords who will have houses or apartments available for rental in summer or early fall have been asked by Princeton University to hang out the "for rent" sign this May.

The reason is that the University itself can house only about 950 of its 1,450 graduate students, in the Graduate School dormitories and the Lawrence and Butler ("project") apartments. The rest have to find privately-owned housing in the general Princeton area.

In late April, there is a room-draw lottery to determine which students get University housing in the fall.

"Those who have been unsuccessful usually begin immediately to search for housing that will be available in August or September," said Richard A. Caulk, acting director of housing for the University.

Because graduate students and others who are moving out

A New Arrival Due

May sits waiting
On a hill,
Admiring April's
Daffodil.

It took a long time, but April finally warmed up sufficiently to bring out the very best in daffodils. After a slight dip in the temperature Wednesday, the Man promised that above average thermometer readings would close out the month, with skies partly cloudy Thursday and then generally fair into the weekend.

Saturday, he noted, is the last day of Standard Time, with clocks and watches to go ahead an hour by 2 a.m. Sunday. The latest possible time for the start of Daylight Saving (which occurs when the last day in April is a Sunday) is responsible for one statistic rarely recorded here on the last three days of this week: the sun will rise before 5 a.m.

Almost like that part of the world inside the Arctic Circle of privately-owned quarters usually leave in June or July, landlords often wait until then to advertise. This means that many graduate students are hunting in May, not knowing what will be advertised in June or July.

Mr. Caulk suggests advertising in newspapers, and listing available housing with the University's Housing Department.

FOOD RATINGS ISSUED

By Princeton Health Officers. Half a dozen Princeton eating establishments or those selling food have received "Satisfactory," the highest rating allowed by the state's Department of Health, in spot inspections. Five others were upgraded to "Satisfactory" from an earlier "Conditional" rating.

Those receiving "Satisfactory" are Princeton Market, 44 Leigh; The Nickel, 354 Nassau; Somerset Farms, 55 State Road and 261 Nassau; Cox' Store, 182 Nassau; Princetonian Sweet Shop, 46 Witherspoon and Lahiere's Restaurant, 5 Witherspoon.

The YM-YWCA Cafeteria; the Princeton Boychoir School; the Annex Restaurant, 128½ Nassau; The Grotto Restaurant, 18 Witherspoon and Springdale Golf Club were all re-inspected after "Conditional" ratings and found to be satisfactory.

In addition, all of the Princeton University eating clubs on Prospect Avenue, which had been given "Conditional" certificates, have been re-inspected and found satisfactory.

The State Department of Health, which does inspections of establishments that have been closed by local boards of health, inspected The Rusty Scupper, Alexander Street, and gave it a "Satisfactory" rating.

Following a March 30 fire at The Food Mart, Witherspoon Street, damaged products were destroyed, under supervision, at the Princeton dump.

JOINT MEETING SET

On Landmarks Ordinance. The Historical Society and the Chamber of Commerce will jointly sponsor a public meeting for residents interested in the proposed Landmarks Ordinance on Monday at 8 in the John Witherspoon School auditorium.

The two organizations are sponsoring the meeting as a public service to provide an opportunity for further discussion of the provisions of the ordinance, correction of misunderstandings, and suggestion of possible changes and modifications.

WORLD LEADERS HERE

For Bilderberg Conference. The long limousines that glided through Princeton Friday and the strict security provisions at Educational Testing Service on Rosedale Road were part of a three-day conference of leaders of the industrialized world at the Henry Chauncey Conference Center that ended Sunday.

Known as the Bilderberg Conference, from the hotel in which the meeting was first held in Oosterbeek, the Netherlands, in 1954, the gathering of top journalists, economists, politicians, educators, businessmen and labor leaders meets in guarded privacy. According to Lord Alec Douglas-Home, the conference chairman, the purpose of the meeting is purely for exchange of information.

No attempt is made to reach a consensus, Lord Home said, but rather to "listen to people who know what they are talking about so as to give others background."

Among those invited to this year's conference were Zbigniew Brzezinski, President Carter's top foreign policy advisor; former secretary of state Henry Kissinger, David Rockefeller, chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank, NATO Secretary General Joseph Luns, Giovanni Agnelli, president of the Italian Fiat car manufacturers, President Gaston Thorn of Luxembourg and a contingent from both sides of the British Parliament.

The Soviet buildup of forces in Africa and economic stagnation in Europe were the two main topics addressed. Lord Home, a former British prime minister, commented

Now It's Lawn Lights

"Our mischievous youths are at it again," remarked Chief Frederick Porter this week as he reported that Township police between Thursday and Friday had received four reports of vandalism to outdoor lawn lights in the Riverside Drive, Dodds Lane, Sycamore Road area.

Lights are being knocked out with a sharp instrument, causing additional damage to the poles, Chief Porter reported. He requested residents to keep their eyes open. If anyone sees or hears anything suspicious, call the police immediately, Chief Porter urged.

that a sense of optimism prevailed at the meeting. He said that it stemmed from a growing recognition among Western European Countries that action must be taken to counter the "significant buildup of armaments by the Russians in the past two years."

The Soviets' use of Cuban troops in Africa has caused special concern among Western leaders, Lord Home said. "The Russians have apparently decided there is profit to be gained by becoming active on the continent of Africa," Lord Home said. He mentioned Somalia and Ethiopia as areas of concern, adding that "now it looks as if they're moving into Mozambique."

How to avoid protectionism in the steel and textile industries also came under discussion.

FIVE ARE FINED
In Township Court. Five Princeton area residents were fined Thursday in Township Court.

Judge Philip Carchman fined Jane E. Hartley, 74 Erdman Avenue, and Linda A. Torkelsen, 231 Brookstone Drive, $33 and $32 for speeding. Failure to report an accident cost Ruth J. Mitchell, 6M Holly House, $35.

Fined $30 each were George Olsen, River Road, Belle Mead, stop sign, and Stanley C. Wells, 448 Walnut Lane, red light.

Three were fined Monday in Borough traffic court.

Susan Mertz, 45 Main Street, Kingston, was fined $30 for careless driving; Uta Runyan, 22 Tupelo Row, $20 for a red light violation; and Carol Wever, 24 Moore Street, $20, speeding.

PERSONNEL WORK DONE
In Township. "Personnel improvement projects," worked out in co-operation with a technical assistance team from the New Jersey Department of Civil Service, has been completed in Princeton Township.

Funds were provided through a Federal grant under the Inter-governmental Personnel Act, and the Township provided matching services from the Administrator's office.

Projects undertaken and completed at no additional cash cost to the Township, other than printing, clerical and office services, include:

- Establishment of a Township Affirmative Action Plan
- Establishment of a Performance Evaluation System for Township employees
- Improvement of the Township Personnel Records System
- Initiation of a Township Employee Suggestion Awards Program

Robert B. Barber Jr.

DIRECTOR NAMED
For University's Food Services. Princeton University has announced the appointment of Robert B. Barber Jr., 65-E College Row, as director of food services, effective immediately. He will direct the operations of all food services, including the provision of meals for some 3,300 students as well as management of several university-operated cafeterias, catering and vending services, and food warehousing.

Mr. Barber joined Princeton University two years ago as assistant director of food services following a 22-year career with the U.S. Marine Corps. While working his way from the enlisted ranks to captain, he was responsible for planning, coordinating, implementing and supervising large food and beverage operations, including military clubs. His last five years in the Marine Corps was spent as director of food services at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

A native of Georgia who spent his youth in Atlanta, Mr. Barber comes from a family in which the food services profession is a tradition. His mother is the head cook at Georgia Tech while his brother owns a restaurant and his sister is a dietitian. He himself has been in some phase of food services since he began working in a grocery store at the age of 12. By the time he was 14, he was managing a hamburger stand.

VALUED AT $1390

Camera Equipment Stolen. A case containing a Nikon camera, several lenses, flash unit and tripod was stolen from under a workbench last week in a fourth-floor room in Jadwin Hall on the Princeton University campus. The equipment was valued at $1,390.

The student owner told police the case was taken between 5 Thursday morning and 11 Friday morning. The room was unlocked.

A green file card box containing $80 in bills and change and a quart jar three-fourths filled with pennies were stolen between 6 and 9:45 p.m. Saturday from a home on Linden Lane. Nothing else was taken.

Entry was gained, police said, through a poorly latched rear side door. The money was stolen from the room of the owner's son.

Money Changer Looted. In the Borough, a bill and coin changer machine located in a cafeteria in the Engineering Quadrangle building was broken into last week. Taken were approximately $300 in coins and $100 in bills.

HOTLINE Needs Help

HOTLINE is seeking volunteers for its training session beginning May 5.

HOTLINE has been operating in Princeton since 1970. Trained listeners give encouragement and support to lonely or troubled callers, help them to sort out their problems, offer information about services available, and refer callers to agencies or professionals who may be able to help them.

HOTLINE is interested in those who are objective, non-judgmental, have good common sense and would like to help people. Calls should be made to the Council of Community Services at 924-5865.

Corner American service station yielded $255 in cash during the weekend. The door to the station's office was unlocked, police said.

On the campus, an AM-FM shortwave radio valued at $150 was stolen from an office in Green Hall --- there was no forced entry --- and a $150 cassette recorder was stolen from an unlocked student's room in Dodge-Osborne Hall. The thief entered the Hall through a basement window, police said.

A thief forced a rear window to enter a Hamilton Avenue home last week. He took a portable tape deck valued at $100 from a rear porch.

Thursday afternoon, a Princeton resident reported the theft of her purse from the Public Library--her wallet inside contained $20 and credit cards -- and an East Windsor resident had her wallet stolen from a locked locker at the YWCA. She lost $7 and a $20 American Express check.

LEARNER FAILS TEST

Hits Service Pole. A 17-year-old Princeton resident, learning how to drive, lost control of a car Sunday afternoon and hit a service pole.

Police said that Sarah Merians of 114 Elm Road failed to bring the steering wheel back as she was turning from Fairway Drive onto Rosedale Road. She sustained a bleeding nose when her face struck the steering wheel.

Her passenger, Charles A. Sculerati, 31, 54 Murray Place, owner of the car, received contusions of the head. There were no charges by Sgt. David Potts.

Two Cars Collide. Amy Gutmann, 28, 8 Shaw Drive, Kingston, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for head pains received last week when her car was struck by another on Route 27 and River Road.

Pt. John Clausen ticketed the second driver, William H. Mills, 56, of Kendall Park. He reported that the Mills car, traveling on River Road, had stopped for a stop sign but then failed to yield to the Gutmann car. Both cars had to be towed from the scene.

"MR. GARAGE"

...and Other Agenda Items. John Fujiwara, described by Borough officials as an articulate and enthusiastic man, will talk about parking garages this Thursday, April 27, at 7:30 in Borough Hall to all citizens who want to come. He and his team will design the Borough's new garage.

Other items in the municipal hopper include a new apartment ordinance for May introduction. It will allow a two-room flat provided the house stands on a lot no smaller than 15,000 square feet. This means the R-1 zone and parts of R-2, where only roomers have been allowed until now.

This Thursday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall, Council will hear an appeal from the Zoning Board's refusal to allow a house on Quarry street to be converted from four apartments to eight. Council will also hear an appeal from a rent-leveiling decision related to 10 Bayard Lane.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley favors passing an ordinance to place on this November's ballot the election of a consolidation study commission, he said this week. He speculated that even officials lukewarm toward consolidation might support such an ordinance since it would only authorize a formal study.

"I couldn't possibly say 'yes' to consolidation under any and all circumstances," the mayor said, "but it would mean fewer meetings for elected officials to attend."

CARTRIDGES STOLEN

From Hi-Fi Store. Two stereo cartridges, valued at $69 and $35, were shoplifted last week from Tech Hi-Fi on Palmer Square.

An employee called police to report that the two suspects had fled in a dark blue pickup truck. Both were described as in their 20s. One had brown hair, the other blonde curly hair. Ptl. Monica Sheehan investigated.

STORM WINDOW BROKEN

On Harris Road. A three-foot square front storm window of a Harris Road house was broken during the weekend by an unknown object.

After a police search failed to recover any object, police commented in their report that it was possible the damage was caused by a baseball or golf ball (later retrieved) since the home faces the Valley Road athletic field.

Near the heart of America a quiet spring bubbles its ageless water to the earth's surface today, just as it has for longer than mankind knows.

A hundred years ago the name "Mountain Valley" was given to the spring. Continuously since then, the water has been winning new friends until now it is the only natural spring water popular across the nation.

When you first taste Mountain Valley Water, you'll feel like you're drinking real water for the first time. Drink it awhile -- soon you'll know what incomparably good water can mean for you.

Nassau Presbyterian Planning to Sell St. Andrew's Church; Land and Building Estimated to Be Worth More Than $400,000

The Session of the Nassau Presbyterian Church has voted to recommend to the congregation that the Chambers Street building, the former St. Andrews Church, be sold.

The vote came last Thursday after the church spent a year in vain seeking organizations who needed the space and could carry the maintenance costs as potential tenants. (TOWN TOPICS, April 19.) Initially this search was extended to groups who minister to the needs of the elderly and the handicapped as a St. Andrews Center for social concerns was envisualized. The Eden Institute for autistic children became the first such tenant.

More recently discussions were held with representatives of the performing arts groups with the thought that the Sanctuary could be renovated as a performance hall.

The Session will now ascertain what steps it must take to sell the property and will have it appraised. When that information is in hand, the congregation will be asked to give its approval. The New Brunswick Presbytery must also concur.

Possibly Worth $450,000. One real estate agent in town has suggested informally that the land, which consists of 100 feet along Nassau Street and 187 feet on Chambers, is worth approximately $300,000. The church itself has limited utility from an appraisal point of view but could be worth from $100,000 to $150,000, he says.

The most recent Nassau Street real estate transaction involved the Cook building at 190 Nassau Street which is understood to have been sold for $650,000. This property has 128-foot frontage and is 206 feet deep with an additional piece on Park Place.

DOLL SHOW SET

In Kingston Firehouse. The village of Kingston will hold its second annual Doll, Dollhouse, Miniature and Antique Toy Show and Sale on Saturday from 10 to 5 in the Kingston Firehouse. Over 40 dealers and craftsmen will spread out their displays on 50 tables in the engine room and banquet hall.

The show will feature the talents of Mary Louise Shoeman and the Biro Brothers, makers of fine dollhouses; dollmakers June Tressler of Hampton, Jodi Abrams of Cream Ridge, Piper Miley of Middlebush and miniature makers Mary Ellen Gilkie of Sayreville, Rose Sheridan of Parlin, and Grace Carnecchia of Princeton. New shops displaying their collections for the first time include White House Miniatures of Princeton Junction, Sheridan's Miniatures of Parlin, and The Doll Lady of Yardley, Pa.

Agnes Sheehan of Kingston will display bisque head German dolls from the 1890's, and the field of antique toys will be represented by the Weders of Upper Black Eddy, Pa., and the Wengels, from Skillman. Clara Kennedy of Princeton will show antique dollhouses, including two houses from the 1890's, one with the original wallpaper, period furniture, small Staffordshire figures and German trinket boxes.

The Miller's Wife of Allentown will serve luncheon from 11:30 - 3. The menu, which features natural foods prepared "from scratch," will include quiche, crepes, a middle-Eastern sandwich on pita bread and homemade desserts.

Admission to the show is $1.50, 25 cents for escorted children. Plenty of free parking is available.

TO MARK 20 YEARS Of Recording For The Blind. The Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind which will celebrate its 20th anniversary Sunday from 4-6 with a "Birthday Party" at the Unitarian church. Mrs. Alma Rotnem, a former Princeton resident, founded the unit in the spring of 1958 in basement rooms at 100 Stockton Street where it still operates.

Mrs. Rotnem and a group of volunteers had four booths for recording on discs. In the first six months, the unit spent 641 hours reading 14 books. Though only two booths have been added, 267 books were recorded on tape last year in 8,010 hours of reading. The change from discs to tapes came in 1961.

Decisions on what books to read come from the blind students themselves whose requests are made on the basis of academic need. Recordings and their distribution, always without charge to students, have ranged from elementary school to postgraduate level in subjects as varied as mathematics, law, chemistry, computers and nine languages.

Several thousand volunteers have given their time to this effort during the 20 years. Six of the original group are among some 350 now active and eager to welcome new volunteers. A phone call may be made to 921-6534 between 9 and 5, Monday to Thursday or on Friday morning.

NEW MEMBER ADDED. By United Fund. James Stewart III, President of Princeton Area United Community Fund, has announced that the Fund's Board of Trustees has approved the admission of the Jewish Family Service of Trenton (JFS), as a new member agency.

JFS, whose main office is located on 57 Walter Street in Trenton, applied for PAUCF membership in 1977 and will become a funded agency beginning in January, 1979. Their application was approved after being reviewed by the Princeton Area Council of Community Services and the Fund's Eligibility and Admissions Committee.

The United Fund has an open door policy and will accept applications from any voluntary agency which can meet the Fund and community's rigid standards. An agency applying for membership must demonstrate that it provides a needed service in the area of welfare, health or recreational activities to those living in the 13-community area served by the Princeton Area United Fund.

It should also fill a need that is not already met by another community agency. The applying agency must have a volunteer board of directors which meets at least four times annually and must qualify as a tax exempt organization and maintain good accounting and operate with a realistic budget.

The Eligibility and Admissions Committee is composed of volunteer board members. Dr. Richard Magee is chairman and assisting him are Mrs. William Adamson, Charles A. Hurford, Gabriel Hanson and Mrs. William Cherry.

ALUMNI DAY SET. At PDS. Alumni of Miss Fine's School, Princeton Country Day School and Princeton Day School will gather on the PDS campus on Saturday, May 6, for the seventh annual Alumni Day. They will represent classes from 1915 to 1977.

The Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting after lunch. President Jean Shaw Byrne '61 will preside and nominating committee chairman Mary Wisnovsky will present the officers and slate of council representatives for the class of 1981. They are president, Jean

WOMAN IS ROBBED

Trenton Man Charged. Roland J. Tolliver, 22, of Trenton has been charged by Det. Timothy Huizing with robbery involving a Princeton resident.

Police report the victim was emerging from her car early Thursday evening in the Park Place lot when she saw two men coming toward her. She got back inside and attempted to lock the car doors, but one of the two managed to keep the driver's door open.

He pushed her across the seat, police continued, and demanded her purse, which she surrendered. It contained $40 and credit cards.

The following day, Trenton police informed Borough police that they had four men in custody and in their possession were credit cards taken from the Princeton victim.

Det. Huizing went to the Trenton station and as a result of his investigation, charged Tolliver. Bail on Tolliver was set at $10,000.

The other three were charged by the Trenton police. They were in the process of cashing a stolen check in a Trenton bank when arrested.

MAILING BEE SET

By Amnesty International. The Princeton Group of

Amnesty International will hold a mailing bee on Saturday from 2 to 5 in Corwin Hall Lounge. Sample letters on behalf of prisoners of conscience will be available.

Participants may simply sign the letters or use them as models to write their own. The mailing bee will concentrate on three of the group's cases: Muhammad Ali Mu'ammur of Libya, Tseng Cheng - Chin of Taiwan and a group of Green conscientious objectors.

Muhammad Ali Mu'ammur, a Libyan school teacher, was arrested in 1973 on charges of being a member of an illegal political party. He was released in 1974 but was re-arrested at the command of President Gaddafi, and a 15 year imprisonment was increased to life imprisonment by the Revolutionary Command Council of which Gaddafi is chairman.

Mr. Tseng, a wealthy Taiwanese watch and clock dealer, was arrested in December 1976 and accused of "attempting to overthrow the government" by joining the Communist Party. According to an AI researcher, Mr. Tseng's arrest may be an attempt by authorities to prove the existence of a "communist conspiracy" in Taiwan. The Greek conscientious objectors are about 45 Jehovah's Witnesses who are held in military prisons for refusing cooperation with military service.

NAMED TO BOARD

At Stuart School, Doris K. Donnelly, visiting lecturer of Theology, Church History and Christian Education at the Princeton Theological Seminary, has become a member of the Advisory Board of Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart.

Ms. Donnelly, who is also director of Roman Catholic studies at the Seminary, is a graduate of Manhattanville College where she majored in English. She received her M.A. from the University of Southern California, Los Angeles, and her Ph.D. from the Claremont Graduate School, Claremont, Calif. In both schools her areas of concentration were religion and theology.

She also teaches at the New York Theological Seminary and has held professorships at Fordham University and Immaculate Heart College.

BUY FOR BACKPACKERS: The Littlebrook School Backpackers' Bazaar (second annual) will be held Saturday from 10 to 4. Lots of things to buy — including the tricycle and doll house shown here — plus baked goods, refreshments and flea-market items. Games, too, and prizes. Backpackers, left to right, are Raviv Lavid, Ruth Bander, Stephanie Krasnoff, Felicity Taylor and Joel Miller.

Sen. Case Plans to Run for Fifth Term

Senator Clifford Case (R-N.J.) has announced he will run for reelection to the United States Senate, seeking an on-precedented fifth six-year term.

"Over the years, I believe I have come to understand the thinking of the people of New Jersey on the great issues of our time, their conceptions of their needs and their aspirations for themselves and their families," he said. "I have found their thinking, their conceptions and their aspirations closely compatible with my own."

Sen. Case cited his seniority which has placed him in influential roles on two key Senate committees: Appropriations and Foreign Relations. He also serves on the Senate Intelligence Committee, and he is the ranking Republican Senator on the Board of the Office of Technology Assessment and on the Helsinki Commission which monitors the observance of human rights by nations which signed the Helsinki Accord.

RARE DOGS HERE

For Obedience Demonstration. The Middle Atlantic States Komondor Club, formed to preserve the Hungarian Komondor breed of guard dog, held a gathering of 30 of the unusual breed and their owners Sunday at the Hun School.

The gathering was attended by a Hungarian breeder and judge, Mrs. Irene Evers of Pilisszentivan, Hungary, who was on her first trip to this country to see American-bred Komondors.

The Hungarian Komondor (picture, page one) is a big white dog whose coat falls in long tassels to the ground. The breed was first recognized in the United States by the American Kennel Club in 1937, and in the last 40 years, only 913 animals were registered in this country. The Komondor is rare even in its native Hungary where it once guarded flocks on the plains.

The oldest dog at the gathering was "Duna," a Hungarian import owned by Marion J. Levy Jr. of 102 Russell Road. There were many American-bred dogs, several of them Duna's descendants, and of the total 30, ten are U.S. Champions and four of these have placed in the working group at all-breed shows in this country.

An obedience demonstration was held for Mrs. Evers by two dogs who have obedience titles. Mark Kamen of Monsey, N.Y., demonstrated with his "Bird" parts of the C.D.X. and U.D. routines. He also showed some brace work with Bird and her son, Eros.

Mrs. Evers presented each dog with a plaque from Hungary, and the M.A.S. Komondor Club presented her with a certificate awarding her an honorary life membership in recognition of her dedication to the Komondor breed.

PATROLMAN HONORED

For Outstanding Service, The Princeton Jaycees have conferred their annual Outstanding Young Police Officer Award on Patrolman William A. Nathan of the Borough Police Force.

Patrolman Nathan was commended by Chief Carnevale because of the role he played last November in providing information which led to the arrest of a man sought in connection with several rapings. While on patrol duty, the rookie patrolman spotted a motorist who looked very much like the composite drawing of the wanted rapist. The information he obtained by stopping the car and asking to see the driver's license was passed on to the detective in charge of the rape investigation and proved to be the key lead in the case.

The Jaycees also gave a special award to the Township in honor of Lt. Michael G. Lisi who died this year after serving for 21 years. A plaque was presented to Chief Porter to be placed in Township Hall. Certificates of Appreciation were given to the chiefs of both police departments for the cooperation given to the Jaycees and other groups. The Jaycees cite the example of its Cyclethon for the Heart Association which netted over $3,000 but required extensive preparation of a safe route through the Borough and Township for 65 young people on bicycles. "As always," said Chris Tarr, Jaycees' president, "both departments were cheerfully helpful."

FUND DRIVE BEGINS
For Planned Parenthood. Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area launched its 1978 fund-raising campaign this week with a luncheon given for board members and community volunteers who will solicit funds by mail and by personal calls.

Mrs. Charles Biddle of Princeton, this year's development coordinator, announced $50,000 as the goal for funds to be raised from the private sector. While higher by some $15,000 than campaign targets of recent years, the goal, Mrs. Biddle believes, is realistic. "It takes into consideration our on-going Emergency Fund, created in response to the cut-off of Medicaid funds for abortions in New Jersey last year," she explained. "Last summer, we had to make a second appeal to our friends to deal with a crisis. This year we had budgeted for what is no longer a crisis, but a fact, and will make only one solicitation." Mrs. Avon Arnold, Executive Director, emphasized that while PPAMA receives funding from state and federal sources, private moneys are very important because they permit continuation or initiation of valuable projects which government regulations might restrict. Already in the plans for 1978 is the relocation of PPAMA's Hightstown clinic and expansion of gynecological services.

Contributions to PPAMA are tax deductible and may be made to Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area, 437 East State Street, Trenton, N.J. 08608.

WINNERS LISTED

Show included Mrs. Angeline Austin, Mrs. J.E. Hensler, Mrs. A.V.S. Olcott and Mrs. John H. Wallace. Red ribbons were awarded to Mrs. C.H. Anthony, Mrs. Kenneth Fairman, Taylor Reed and the University League Garden Club. These were chosen from a total of 305 entries.

Blue ribbons in artistic arrangement classes were awarded to Mrs. M.L. Delafield, Mrs. John S. Kramer, Mrs. Edward C. Rose, Mrs. E.T. Comly II and Mrs. F.W. Roebing III. Winners of red ribbons included Mrs. Peter Carter, Mrs. John Pontius, Mrs. J.B. Strassenburgh and Mrs. Thomas Kafes. Also Mrs. Allen Carrick, Mrs. Nathaniel Burt, Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Strassenburgh received yellow ribbons.

to Mrs. J.H. Hall, Mrs. A.V.S. Olcott, Mrs. Nathaniel Burt, Mrs. John H. Wallace and Mrs. Orville A. Petty II.

The New Jersey Daffodil Society welcomes new members. Annual dues of $3 may be sent to Richard Kersten, treasurer, 107 Chatham Street, Chatham, N.J. 07328.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY

In Theft of VW Motor. Geoffrey Graham, 25, of Etl Farm, Rosedale Road, has been charged with the larceny of a VW motor and other parts from a car parked in a lot on Nassau Street.

Arrested Thursday morning by Township Ptl. Harry Morton, Graham was taken to Borough headquarters where he was processed and later released in $50 cash bail. He is scheduled to appear in court next Wednesday. Det. Ronald Holliday signed the complaint against Graham.

TWO AUCTIONS PLANNED

At Unitarian Church. Auction, Etc. is the annual spring event at the Unitarian Church where the public can buy services and articles at two auctions, one flea market and a variety of booths.

This year's event will take place Saturday from 10 to 4 at the church, Cherry Hill and State Roads. The regular auction will begin at 11, and among the first selections to be put up for bidding will be a number of oil paintings and watercolors in the naturalistic genre which have been donated from a private collection. This auction will also have a succession of new and used furniture, antiques and appliances.

The other bidding activity is the Silent Auction in which one enters a bid by pencil on a sheet posted by each item of the many goods and services available. Among the fare here will be a sail on a 50-foot yawl of the Maine coast, a cottage on Fire Island, extended babysitting and yardwork.

Other attractions are a flea market with an extensive array of merchandise at low prices, booths or sections where art work crafts, books, records, toys, games, plants and homemade foods may be purchased. There will be quiche or hotdogs and hamburgers to eat and games and entertainment for the children.

TAFT, CORNFORTH

To DNA Committee. HESSIE Taft and Charles Cornforth have been appointed by Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley as the first municipal liaison people to Princeton University's biohazards committee concerned with DNA research.

Mrs. Taft was on the 11-member citizens group that studied recombinant DNA research last year and recommended allowing such research at the so-called P-3 level of laboratory security. Mayor Cawley said this week that he wanted someone with a grounding in science, which Mrs. Taft has.

Mr. Cornforth, a former member of Borough Council, is an engineer by profession. Mayor Cawley pointed out that Mr. Cornforth was the one who detected a crucial problem with the original formula for sharing the costs of the regional sewer system.

"He can provide the same kind of expertise to the biohazards committee," the mayor said.

RUMMAGE SALE SET

For Choir Spoleto Fund. A rummage sale to benefit the PHS Choir Fund for the Spoleto Festival trip to Charleston, S.C., will be held on Thursday, May 4, from 9 to 5 and Friday, May 5, from 9 to 3 at the United Methodist Church on Nassau Street. Mrs. Harvey Hook and Mrs. John Johnson are co-chairmen.

Rummage may be brought to the church during the day

Dog Show May 7

Arrangements have been completed for the 49th Trenton Kennel Club All-Breed and Obedience Trial Dog Show to be held May 7 in West Windsor. One of the largest one-day outdoor events in the United States, it will attract an entry of approximately 3,000 dogs.

The Show and Obedience Trial will be held in Mercer County Park, on Edinburgh and Old Post roads. Show time (rain or shine) is 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

on Tuesday, May 2, and Wednesday, May 3. Before the scale week of the sale, storage will be available at Valley Road School by appointment only. Jean Bosley, director at 921-Arrangements for rummage 8606 or Deborah Endo, Family pick-up and information Service Agency at 924-2098.

Items most in demand for rummage sales are clean clothes (especially children's wear), books, small appliances in working order, bric-a-brac, costume jewelry, kitchen items, and furniture which can be handled by two women with a station wagon.

APPLICATIONS DUE

For Nursery School. The Princeton Nursery School is accepting applications for the September session.

Located at 78 Leigh Avenue, the Nursery School offers an accredited full day child care program for children 27 months through pre-kindergarten. The program emphasizes each child's social and emotional development.

Tuition is based on sliding fee

For further information regarding admissions, call Jean Bosley, director at 921-Arrangements for rummage 8606 or Deborah Endo, Family Service Agency at 924-2098.

CONFUSION TO REIGN

Two Sun Days in One Weekend. Sun Day is Saturday, May 6, but it will actually start around sundown the day before. In a glass-walled room in Peyton Hall on Ivy Lane, a "Solar Panel" will talk about the sun at 8 p.m. Friday, May 5.

Dr. Martin Schwarzschild, professor of astrophysics at Princeton University, will explain what makes the sun shine. Douglas Kelbaugh and Harrison Fraker, two Princeton architects, will show slides of solar houses they have designed. Frank W. Sinden of the Center for Environmental Studies at the University, will talk about the Twin Rivers project, in which scientists and conservationists poked around the houses to find just where the heat and energy were seeping out.

And finally, someone as yet unidentified, will talk about the influence of the sun on cultures and history. It's all free, and it's family fare that even the kids can understand. Questions will be answered after the brief presentations.

The next day, Sun Day will start at 11 a.m. with a procession. Youngsters will parade their sun banners and hope to win a ribbon award. Everybody is supposed to play a re-cycled instrument made from a rubber band and an old comb, or an innertube stretched like a drum across a canfeecan, or anything else.

Next week, the Arts Council -- sponsors of Sun Day -- will sell tee-shirts at "under $4" on Palmer Square. Buy one in time to wear Friday evening and Sun Day itself.

Proceeds from tee-shirt sale will go toward the cost of the shirts, but also to help the arts Council pay for the day. It's the first time such a fundraiser has been held.

Sometime on Saturday, there will be a Scavenger Hunt, organized by Gordon Griffin Jr. and his wife, Jenni. Demonstrations of alternate sources of energy and energy conservation are being coordinated by Gay Symington of the Whole Earth Center.

Dancers, musicians, artisans and non-profit groups that want to sell plants or food, should pick up application forms at the public library of the Chamber of Commerce (44 Nassau). Deadline for returning these forms is Friday.

Charles Cornforth
Off and Running Again

Topics of the Town

REPUBLICANS FILL SLATE

Cornforth, Hammer Named. Charles Cornforth, 71 Westcott Road, and John L. Hammer Jr., 101 Library Place, have been selected by Borough Republicans to run for Council in the November election.

They will oppose Richard Macgill, appointed recently to fill the seat vacated by Gus Escher, and Alan Wallack. William Selden, a Republican, had announced he would not seek re-election.

Mr. Cornforth, a retired Public Service Company executive, served two terms on Council in the late sixties and early seventies, and has kept active in town affairs. He served as chairman of the Consolidation Joint Study Committee, and was Borough representative for the Princeton High School bond referendum.

Mr. Hammer, 65, a resident of Princeton since 1960, is a retired management consultant. A graduate of the University of North Carolina and Harvard Business School, he had worked for Smith, Kline, Corp., Monsanto and Merck & Co. He is a board member and treasurer of the Princeton Public Library.

FAIR PLANNED

By Rock Brook School. Parents of children enrolled at the Rock Brook School in Blawenburg will hold a spring craft fair on the school grounds on Route 518 on Saturday, May 6, from 10 to 4.

Among the crafts available from area crafters are stuffed toys, wooden toys, macrame, leaded glass, miniatures and batiks. Baked goods and frozen casseroles will be on sale, and there will be a holiday boutique stocked with handmade gift items and holiday decorations.

The Craft Fair has been organized under the direction of Joyce McDonald and Anne Dennehy. All proceeds will benefit the school for children with communication disorders and learning disabilities. The school provides an educational and therapeutic program for children enrolled, as well as out-patient evaluation and therapy services.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

As Friendly Visitors. The Volunteer Friendly Visitor Program is seeking additional volunteers for the May orientation program.

This free program is sponsored by the Princeton Community Homemaker - Home Health Aide Service, a member agency of the Princeton Area United Community Fund. It represents a continued effort by the agency to meet the needs of the homebound individuals in the community.

The program is in need of persons who can volunteer one hour a week to bring "Friendship With Understanding" to the homebound. The Volunteer Friendly Visitor visits individuals of any age, who, because of life circumstances, chronic illness, or physical handicaps are alone and would like companionship. The volunteer may chat, read aloud, play simple games and in general be a friend. When possible the visitor and those being visited are matched based upon similar interests.

A training course for new visitors will be held on May 9, 11, 16 and 18, from 7:30 - 9:30 at the Council of Community Services office, 221 Witherspoon Street. This course is designed to impart knowledge that will help make visits more rewarding for the Friendly Visitor and the person visited. It will include such topics as Understanding People and Problems of the Homebound, Social and Cultural Aspects of Aging, Physical and Mental Health, the Dynamics of a Friendly Visit and Community Resources.

Those who are interested and can spare an hour a week, perhaps a lunch hour, call the Home Health Aide Service at 924-5862 between 9 and 3 weekdays. Training sessions are open to any person interested in visiting the homebound.

RUN FOR FUN

May 20 in Pennington. Runners and joggers of all abilities are invited to participate in the Second Annual Pennington Run For Fun, to be held at 10 a.m. on Saturday, May 20. Races of one and five miles will start and finish at The Pennington School.

A post-race clinic will be conducted by Dr. Thomas M. McGuigan, noted sports-medicine podiatrist, on common jogging ailments, their identification, treatment, and preventive measures. All participants will receive a specially designed certificate for recording their performance.

In addition, the first three finishers in more than 33 different age and sex divisions (including several for children) will be awarded medals. A one-mile Guess-Your-Time event will be held with the winner being the participant coming the closest to their predicted time (you can even walk and win).

Entry fees for the races, sponsored by the Pennington Recreation Commission, are $1 for the one-mile and $2 in advance, $3 the day of the five-mile race. Applications and further information may be obtained from Bud Lustenberger (609) 737-1565, 122 E. Delaware Ave., Pennington, N.J. 08534.

SPRING IN BLOOM
At Ambleside. Ambleside Gardens are an oasis of beauty, a Shangri-La for those who plant gardens and landscape their homes. Plants for every purpose, every location are attractively displayed for your selection. Annuals, perennials, wildflowers, vegetables, herbs, fruit trees, shade trees, flowering trees and shrubs, evergreens -- including dwarf and unusual varieties -- are grouped together along graveled paths with stepping stones; the loveliness of unfolding leaves and blossoms is seen at every turn.

At the center of all this natural springtime beauty is "Terre House", a striking contemporary building of glass and silvery wood built over a pool. Designed by William Miller and Associates of Hopewell, it has a three story tower that is easily seen from State Highway 206 and marks Ambleside's location. Everything that needs shelter is here - service area, garden supplies, houseplants and a crafts gallery that will host the "Pottering Potters" in June.

Here, too, you will find honey-colored wicker planters from the Philippines with strong designs and versatile shapes that adapt to many decorative uses, and display your greenery with dignity and charm. Hand-forged iron from New York State is fashioned into handsome hanging baskets, mobiles and brackets that will support your heaviest plants. Hand-painted stoneware planters from Kentucky, in pleasing shapes and open designs, display motifs from nature or Indian themes in softest colors.

Flowers. Perennials are divided into sun-loving or shade-loving groups and shown in order of bloom. The shade group ranges from spring-blooming wild blue phlox and Jacob's ladder to fall-blooming lily turf; the sun group includes phlox for midsummer and mums for fall. Annuals are shown when ready to plant, beginning with lobelia, dusty miller, snapdragons and petunias.

Wildflowers clustered in the shade of a tree are Dutchman's breeches, four kinds of trilliums, yellow lady slippers, blood root, hepatica, shortia, galax, Virginia bluebells and a dozen varieties of ferns. Flowers for the rock garden include dwarf Shasta daisies, green lady's mantle and creeping Veronica, which is a mat of blue flowers in May. Small shrubs for the rock garden are dwarf arbutus, bird's nest spruce, mugho pines, dwarf cotoneaster and winter heath.

UNUSUAL MAGNOLIA: This graceful, flowering star magnolia, pruned to be a tree rather than a bush, is one of many unusual specimens offered at Ambleside. It is ideal for today's town houses and gardens, where space is limited, but beautiful anywhere. White birch, and dwarf blue spruce are also seen in this grouping, arranged by Mary Scudder (shown here) and her husband Townsend Scudder, who are owners of Ambleside on Route 206, Belle Mead.

Herbs and Vegetables. Herbs - fifteen different kinds -- plus Italian and French parsley are found at Ambleside for cooking, salads, teas, pot pourri. Garden vegetables, ready to plant, are five kinds of lettuce, Spanish onions, broccoli, cauliflower, red, savoy and white cabbage and Brussels sprouts. Three year old asparagus roots, horseradish and red rhubarb promise delicious eating.

Trees and Shrubs. Many familiar flowering shrubs - Rose of Sharon, mock orange, weeping cherry, double flowering peach - bring grace and beauty to home lawns. Korean spice viburnum will be covered with fragrant flowers in May. Ornamental trees such as flowering cherry, magnolias, golden rain tree, Chinese scholar trees and purple leaf viburnum are a joy to behold.

Fruit trees include a five-in-one apple, which has five varieties grafted on one tree, dwarf cherry, apricot, peach and plum. A complete selection of standard fruit trees offers many varieties of sour cherries, sweet cherries, peaches, nectarines, apricots, plums. Apple trees of bearing size are Red Delicious, Yellow Delicious, MacIntosh, Cortland, Stayman Winesap, Rome Beauty, Jonathon and Yellow Transparent.

Unusual Specimens Mr. Scudder is very proud of the unusual specimens at Ambleside. Dwarf spiraea, "Japonica Alpina", a low creeping shrub, blooms with delightful clusters of pink flowers during spring and summer. Viburnum Sieboldii, normally a bush, is found in tree form at Ambleside; its flat clusters of creamy flowers show up in May, followed by coral red berries in mid-summer and red foliage in autumn. Chinese dogwood extends the blooming season by appearing a month later than regular dogwood; its blossoms are star-shaped and its fruit is shaped like a strawberry.

Other unusual trees seen at Ambleside are the copper beeches, weeping beeches, weeping pines. A variety of dwarf Norway spruce grows only one inch each year; bristle cone pines are also slow-growing. The umbrella pine has spoke-like needles that grow like little Japanese parasols.

Ambleside has beautiful and rare broadleaf evergreens. Deciduous azaleas with large orange or yellow flowers are especially lovely; dwarf gumpo azaleas present their blossoms in June, after regular azaleas are through. Unusual rhododendrons include the dwarf "scarlet wonder" with bright red flower clusters, the rare dwarf daphnoides with purple flower clusters, and a miniature dwarf rhododendron with tiny leaves and clusters of purple flowers that is blooming now.

Ambleside, owned by Mary and Townsend Scudder, is located on State Highway 206 and Oxford Place, Belle Mead. Store hours are Tuesday through Friday 9-6, Saturday 9-5, Sunday 12-5. Closed Mondays.

FINE ANTIQUE JEWELRY

At Dorothy Oppenheim's. Dorothy Oppenheim has a forthright and pleasant manner that conveys authority as she talks enthusiastically about her antiques and jewelry business. Her special knowledge and love of antique jewelry is evidenced by a superb collection of pieces that date from the early 1800's. In addition, she offers a full jewelry service, which includes designing or conversion, bead restringing, silver and gold plating, recutting and resetting of stones, re-sizing rings, and jewelry repair.

Mrs. Oppenheim inherited her appreciation of jewelry and antiques from her parents, both of whom were collectors, and has been buying fine jewelry for the past thirty years. She had acquired a private collection by the time she began her business, just a little less than a year ago, and says, "I'm new in the business, but old in the atmosphere." At present, her jewelry is selected from all over the United States and Canada, carefully chosen from estates, other dealers, auctions and people selling personal jewelry.

Her skillful buying often enables her to obtain extraordinary values in jewelry and she is delighted to pass these savings on to her customers. She buys only the pieces that are especially appealing to her and of superior quality and workmanship, and advises her customers to use the same criteria for their greatest personal enjoyment and highest potential resale value.

Here is a sampling of her collection:

Wedding Rings. June is a month of weddings and Mrs. Oppenheim has antique and estate wedding or engagement rings that are distinctive and beautiful. Consider a medium wide 14 karat gold band with a center pearl and side rubies, $125; or a pierced band of hearts and swirls in white gold set with over 22 tiny diamonds, $450. Elegance radiates from a diamond and two sapphires surrounded by smaller sapphires and diamonds in a white gold basket setting, $400. A heavy 18 karat gold contemporary ring of open design is signed by artist, Arthur King, $325.

A heavy 14 karat gold band with two emerald cut diamonds totaling .55 carats would make an appropriate ring for the bridegroom, $350. An antique 14 karat gold ring displays a natural blue baroque pearl in a setting of gold chased leaves, $125. Five amethysts surrounded by rose diamonds in a carved setting of 18 karat gold are the essence of romance, $275.

DAZZLING DISPLAY: Dorothy Oppenheim has an outstanding collection of fine antique jewelry and some unusual contemporary jewelry, too. Here she is among her treasures at Owen's Antiques, Kingston, wearing an antique gold Waltham watch on a Georgian chain set with cabochon garnets and displaying a contemporary sterling silver pin/pendant on a matching neckchain.

Victorian Pins. Small gold lingerie pins can be worn singly or in clusters on collar, lapel, scarf or cowl neck. A slender 14 karat gold pin set with a small topaz is $20; a dainty gold-filled pin with a flowered design in black enamel and gold, $15. A pin-checker pin has a small ornate frame with a center oval, meant to hold a lock of hair, but could hold, instead, a favorite picture, $50; a lovely bar pin has a center of transparent quartz surrounded by rubies and diamonds and stickpins, pendants; single opens to hold a lock of hair, earrings become pendants, $325.

Stickpins, all in 14 karat gold, are small works of art and range in price from $35 to $250. Among the choices are a karat opal of exceptional turquoise and pearl heart-shaped pin, $40; a cobalt blue enamel fleur de lis, $42. You'll see a handsome horse's head, skillfully carved from red coral for $125, a fresh water pearl with a diamond, $65, or an oval gold collar stud with script initials, $35.

Necklaces, Watches and Cameos. A jeweled medley of necklaces includes a pendant fashioned from a black opal and sprays of turquoise on a 14 karat gold chain, $95. A purple amethyst on a heavy 14 karat gold bar link chain is simple and elegant, $325. A peridot and pearl pin-pendant has a delicate, graceful design like an old lavalier, $125.

Exquisite antique watches add their charm to Mrs. Oppenheim's collection, as shown by an enameled pansy watch centered with a cabochon amethyst, $125; a pink enamel, rose decorated, Normandy watch on an enameled pink bow watch pin, $100, or a Waltham 14 karat gold hunting case lady's watch with chased design, $375. She also has an unusual collection of cameos: scenic dowry cameos, showing a shepherd and his flock, or a castle in the forest; coral angel skin cameos and lava cameos; ranging in price from $150-$350.

Jewelry Innovations. Mrs. Oppenheim has many creative and artistic ideas for using old jewelry in new ways. Cufflinks are transformed into earrings,

University Names 5 to Endowed Professorships

Five senior members of the faculty at Princeton University have been appointed to endowed professorships. President William G. Bowen announced today. The appointments, which become effective on July 1, were approved last weekend by the University's Board of Trustees at its annual spring meeting here.

Nobel laureate Philip W. Anderson has been named Joseph Henry Professor of Physics, succeeding Marvin Goldberger, who was recently selected as president of the California Institute of Technology. A member of the faculty since 1975, Dr. Anderson is also consulting director of the physical research division of Bell Laboratories in Murray Hill. The 54-year-old physicist earned his undergraduate and graduate degrees at Harvard.

Malcolm L. Diamond, a member of the faculty for the past 25 years, has been designated William H. Danforth Professor of Religion. Philip H. Ashby, who currently holds the chair, will retire at the end of this academic year.

Dr. Diamond earned his bachelor's degree in metallurgical engineering at Yale and his Ph.D. in philosophy and religion at Columbia. In 1970 he received the Danforth Foundation's E. Harris Harbison Award for Gifted Teaching, a major award in the field of American high education. Dr. Diamond, who is 53 years old, is a Martin Buber scholar.

John J. Hopfield, a specialist in theoretical solid state physics, will hold a Eugene Higgins Professorship in Physics. When Dr. Hopfield, who is now 44, came to Princeton as a full professor in 1964, he was one of the youngest faculty members to hold that rank. An alumnus of Swarthmore College, he received his Ph.D. from Cornell.

George T. Reynolds, who was the first director of Princeton's Center for Environmental Studies, will be the next incumbent of the Class of 1909 Professorship in Physics. Dr. Reynolds, 60, received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Princeton after graduating from Rutgers. He was named assistant professor here in 1946 after four years of military duty. A high energy nuclear physicist, Dr. Reynolds was director (1964-68) of the University's Science in Human Affairs Program.

Chairman of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures Karl D. Uitti has been named John N. Woodhull Professor of Modern Languages. A faculty member since 1959, Dr. Uitti specializes in medieval French literature and Romance linguistics. He earned his undergraduate and graduate degrees at the University of California. Dr. Uitti, 44, has been chairman of his department since 1972.

School, received a B.A. degree in 1977 from the University of Virginia, where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Brett A. Markle, daughter of Mrs. Carol Orr of 294 North Harrison, has been promoted to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force. A law enforcement specialist, she is assigned at Whiteman AFB, Mo., with a unit of the Strategic Air Command, and is married to Daniel Markle.

The airman is a 1974 graduate of Princeton High School. Her father Robert W. Orr, lives in Cranbury.

Second Lieutenant Gilbert L. Weisbecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton F. Weisbecker of 306 Emmons Drive, has been awarded silver wings upon graduation from U.S. Air Force navigator training at Mather AFB, Calif. Lt. Weisbecker is being assigned to Dyess AFB, Texas, for flying duty on the C-130 Hercules. He will serve with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.

The lieutenant, a 1971 graduate of Princeton High

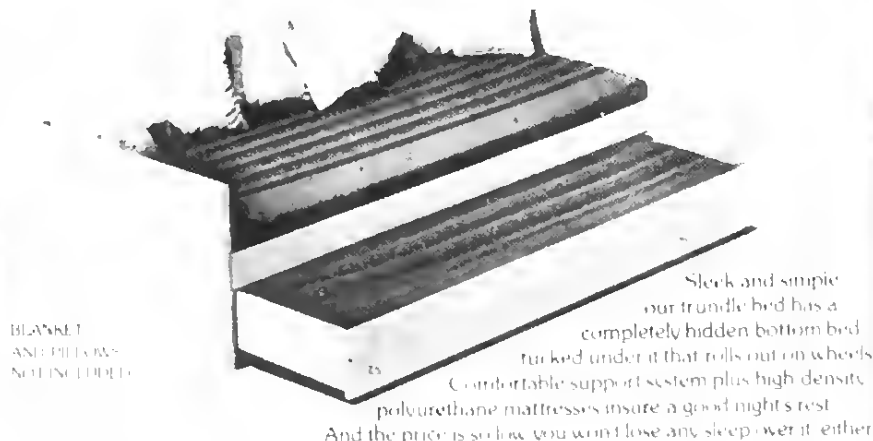

Simon Pankove, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jacques Pankove, 41 Harriet Drive, a junior at Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio, participated in the Northwestern Pennsylvania Psychological Association's Research Conference held at Chatham College. He was one of 54 undergraduate students who presented research in the area of psychology.

A Letter to PHS Students.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
An appeal to the students of Princeton High School from a concerned parent:

The "Moonchildren" fiasco has spawned many implications about the capabilities of high school students that I, as a parent, find disturbing. It is implied, for example, that you are naive, easily corruptible innocents who are too immature to decide what words or ideas you find offensive or in bad taste.

It is implied that you are so inarticulate that you can only use "obscenities" to express yourself. Some (of my generation) even go so far as to suggest that vulgarity and obscenity are all you are interested in and that the high school should be converted into "tax-producing business use" and all of you sent off to Trenton State Prison.

Perhaps these people know something I don't and that their opinions are accurate. I personally don't think so. I urge you to make up your own minds. You are old enough to decide for yourself what words will or will not corrupt you or offend you.

You are capable of deciding for yourself what is in good taste or bad taste. Remember that such judgments are subjective. You, as well as anyone else, are entitled to your opinions.

(I personally find the words 'excrement' and 'fecal matter' offensive. I find it is impossible to say either one out loud while smiling but I would not suggest that my personal opinions are a reason to prevent the local newspapers from printing these words.)

If you have Christian beliefs, you are capable of deciding for yourself if they are likely to be shaken by hearing the word "Jesus" said in conjunction with "Christ" in however blasphemous a context. You can decide for yourself whether such an epithet is any more damaging to your faith in Christ than the expression "By George!" is to your faith in your principal.

It is an unfortunate characteristic of the American way of life that parents tend to regard teenagers as selfish, irresponsible delinquents at the very time when we should be encouraging you to learn to make your own decisions and develop your own tastes. It is also a proven fact that if we treat you like that enough you will begin to believe it and act that way. I appeal to you to try and understand us. This image of yourselves that is being projected throughout the "Moonchildren" debate is a reflection in a distorted funhouse mirror.

Don't take it too seriously. You are being exposed to a close encounter of the absurd kind. Don't despair. You are not alone. There are parents out there who do believe that you are intelligent, responsible beings with the same rights and privileges as the rest of us. Given the chance, you may even learn to use them better than we have.

JIM McDONALD
7 Madison Street

A Slice of Life.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to express my appreciation to Arlene Sinding, the teacher in the high school drama class which produced "Moonchildren." I thank her for her commitment, steadfastness and caring. She has helped fashion something very positive out of a situation heavy with potential for disaster and has shown a dedication to the goals of education—an important underlying issue throughout the "Moonchildren" controversy.

How fortunate the students were to have worked through the problems of these last weeks with her help. Their maturity, dedication, fair-mindedness and ability to compromise have been impressive. They have all these strengths but these could have been destroyed by an uncaring, insensitive or frightened teacher. She allowed them the room to take on responsibility and gave them the encouragement and guidance to meet the challenges in a constructive way.

The story of "Moonchildren" is very real. It was real for its time. Much of it is very real for our time too. We want our children to deal with real life and all it can present, including questions of civil liberties, uses of authority, what is obscene and why, alternative life styles and standards of behavior—where these come from and what they are for.

Our children should have the opportunity to deal with these realities (instead of being protected from them) with the help of mature, responsible teachers. The purpose of curriculum is defined by the quotation from Alfred North Whitehead, "There is only one subject matter for education, and that is life in all its manifestations."

A Welcome First.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
We were among the privileged few who turned out on a rainy Wednesday evening last week to witness an astonishingly fine performance of Chekhov's "The Three Sisters" staged in the gymnasium of the old Nassau Street School.

The play is the first presentation of The Acting Ensemble at Princeton University, a new professional company created by Daniel Seltzer, director of the University's Program in Theatre and Dance. This is a powerful and demanding play, and the company, we are happy to report, is fully equal to the task. Don't miss it.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

PLANT ANNUALS IN MAY
with Sam deTuro

Donald B. Lacey, extension specialist in home horticulture at Cook College, Rutgers University says the date he has circled on his calendar to plant annuals in the Rutgers Display Garden in New Brunswick is May 23.

You don't have to wait until planting time to buy the plants you want. If you wait too long the best selections may be gone, so do your shopping now.

Keep your plants in a protected area at home. If you see you are going to get a frost you can take them inside.

Proper soil preparation is important. Cover the soil with about 2 inches of peat moss. If you haven't added lime within the past 2 years add 3 to 4 pounds for every 100 square feet.

Apply 1 to 1½ pounds of 5-10-5 or 5-10-10 fertilizer to every 100 square feet. Using a fertilizer with a higher rate of nitrogen will only encourage seedling growth.

Mix the peat moss and lime into the soil by turning it under about 6 to 8 inches. Then rake a 1 to 2 inch layer of peat moss over the top.

A light watering of water is needed after planting.

BUSINESS

In Princeton

45,000 BOOKS?

Count 'em. It was a United States Post Office auction, held in New York early in April and the Princeton University Store Decided to bid and—maybe—to buy.

The result: the U. Store, as a high bidder, has 45,000 books of all sizes, contents, kinds and descriptions to sell off to anybody who wants a book. (See ad, page 11)

The day before the auction, F.J. Worthington, manager of the store, and Irving Potts of the book department, went into New York to look over the lot and decide what they wanted. Books were stacked in wagons, and under the rules, a bidder had to bid on a whole wagon. Nets had been stretched over the top so that nobody could paw through and find out what was on the bottom.

"Certain things we clearly didn't want," says Cornelia Watts, operations manager who, with Mr. Potts, did the bidding. "Sunday School lesson books, elementary school readers—that kind of thing."

Although some lemons did turn up, inevitably, most of the books are perfectly acceptable. Lots of cook books, for example, and reference works.

"You paid a $10 deposit," Ms. Watts says, "and they gave you a paddle with a number on it. You sat there, holding up your paddle while the auctioneer, starting with an upset bid of $50, went up by $5, then by $10. When it got too high, you lowered your paddle. After a time, we were the only ones there—with 45,000 books and a sore arm."

One of the books, by the way, is a handsome, leather-bound volume of the complete plans for the Commodore Hotel in Dubai.

"Somebody is clearly frantic," laughs Ms. Watts, "wondering where those plans are!"

SMALL BUSINESS WEEK

Mayors, in Proclamation. "Partners for Progress" is the theme for Small Business Week (May 1-6) and the Princeton Chamber of Commerce has adopted the national motto.

In brief ceremonies Monday at Borough Hall, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley and Township Mayor Josie Hall proclaimed May 1-6 "Small Business Week." Mayor Cawley pointed out that over 96 percent of all enterprises in the country today are small businesses providing some 35 million jobs and contributing around $500 billion to the gross national product.

Joining the two mayors were representatives of Princeton's business community, including Ralph Hulit Jr., chairman of the Princeton Borough Merchants Association and a proprietor of Hulit's Shoe Store; Albert Toto Jr., proprietor of Toto's Market and vice-chairman of the Merchants' Association; Ed Salkind, president of Astro Publications Company and a director of the Chamber of Commerce and E. Harvey Myers, an architect and director of the Chamber.

Paul Chesebro, a past president of the Chamber and currently a director, and Ellen Hodges, the Chamber's executive director, also participated.

OPENS NEW OFFICE

In Hamilton. Walter B. Howe has opened an office in Hamilton at 52 Route 33, Mercerville. Kenneth Diener is vice-president and office manager.

The new Hamilton office is a full-service facility prepared to handle sales of residential, commercial and industrial properties and acreage. An independent member of the nation-wide Gallery of Homes, a cooperative group of over 1,500 real estate firms across the nation, Howe is prepared to aid in the purchase or sale of homes throughout the central New Jersey area and help relocate into the area or other areas across the country.

In-addition to the new Hamilton office, Howe maintains branches in West Windsor, Pennington, Flemington and Sea Girt. In business since 1885, it is one of the largest real estate and insurance firms in the state.

BUS TRIP PLANNED

To Winterthur. The Historical Society will sponsor a bus trip on May 20 to the Henry F. duPont Winterthur Museum near Wilmington, Del.

This family mansion, built in 1839, was turned into a museum by the late Mr. duPont who installed interior woodwork and antique furniture from houses which once existed along the east coast between the 17th and early 19th centuries. Over the years, additions were made to the building to house the growing collection.

The "Winterthur in Spring" tour includes 16 rooms in the part of the Museum which had been his home and 14 in the south wing. There will also be a tour of the gardens, including the Azalea wood which will be in full bloom with flowering dogwoods and tulip poplars. There are also many hybrid rhododendrons, tree peonies, white lilacs and many other flowering shrubs bordering woodland paths which appear as natural growth among the native trees and shrubs.

A buffet lunch is available in the cafeteria, but is not included in the tour ticket. Buses will leave at 8 from the Acme parking lot at Princeton Shopping Center. Tickets are $20 per person.

For reservations call or write by May 8 to the Historical Society, 158 Nassau Street, 921-6748.

TELETHON SET

For Jewish Appeal. The Princeton United Jewish Appeal will hold a Telethon on Sunday from 9:30 to 1 to reach all the members of the SMALL BUSINESS IS BIG: Merchants and officials in Princeton are saluting the small business during the first week in May, and here, outside Borough Hall, are a few of the celebrants with a celebrating poster. community in order to receive their financial pledges for the 1978 campaign.

The United Jewish Appeal, a world wide organization, is the medium for carrying free world Jewry's historic responsibility for the total absorption of Israel's immigrants. The services offered by UJA financial support are housing, education, youth care and training, agricultural resettlement and social welfare services.

For further information regarding UJA or the 30 Telethon, call Ms. Sandie Rabinowitz at 452-9130.

BROOM SALE SET

By Windsor Lions. The West Windsor Township Lions Club will hold its annual broom sale Saturday, May 6, from 8 to 5. The sale will originate at Larry Dey's barn on Sherbrook Drive, West Windsor.

Lion members will canvass door-to-door in all neighborhoods of West Windsor. They will also set up shop in the Acme parking lot on the Princeton-Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction. All proceeds will go to support Lions' projects in the community.

TEA DANCE PLANNED

For Career Awards. The board of Career Development Awards has announced plans for a tea dance to be held Sunday afternoon, May 7, from 3-7 in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn. The proceeds from the dance will go to the CDA scholarship fund, which provides scholarships to students pursuing higher education in vocational and technical fields.

Providing the music for the dance will be the 44 piece "Big Band Sound" Stage Band from Princeton High School, bringing back memories of the tea dances of the 30's and 40's in Princeton. This group has previously played for a reception at the Governor's mansion, and sells out their annual spring concert every year.

Tickets for the dance will be $5 per person, and may be purchased in advance at the Main Desk of the Nassau Inn. Tickets will also be available at the door, and a cash bar will be provided.

Kingston Methodist Church Marks Centennial; Membership Once Grew 10 Fold in Year's Time

The United Methodist Church in Kingston, which is in the midst of a two-month celebration of its 100th anniversary, was born at a time when Methodism, with its revival meetings, religious awakenings and evangelists, was on the upsurge.

There was a Methodist Episcopal Church, as the denomination was then known, in almost every town. They were served by circuit preachers or an increasing number of stationary preachers.

In February, 1878, some 20 or more Kingston people walked along the railroad tracks to Rocky Hill to hear the evangelist Miss Lizzie Sharp conduct revival meetings in the Rocky Hill Methodist Episcopal Church. They were "brought under the influence of the Holy Spirit," as the history of the church begins. Other meetings were held, attracting more people, and in April with 45 present they determined to build a Methodist church in Kingston.

"On June 3rd," the history continues, "the building committee met at Brother Perdur's. Brother Durling reported that he had seen Nelson Conover about a lot, and that he was willing to sell it for $250, one-half cash and the balance on time." The lot on Church Street, just big enough for the church proper, was duly purchased, a young man was hired to clear the weeds and vines, and on August 12 ground was broken.

The Church Is Built. The history records that the two masons were paid $2 a day, "and boarded themselves." The lumber cost $600 and was to be delivered by boat at Kingston Basin. Brother J.E. Swan, leader of the new congregation, was also the architect and the superintendent of the work. The building was raised in September 20, 1878, and finished and dedicated on January 30 of the following year.

The church was served initially by circuit preachers. One was Brother William Disbrow who was at Pennington Seminary (now Pennington Prep School) and frequently walked to Kingston on Saturdays, preached Sunday morning and evening and walked back to Pennington Monday mornings.

Brother Fergus Dennis, an attorney who preached from 1888 until March, 1908, had the longest tenure of anyone in the church's pulpit and must have been a compelling speaker. As the history tells it, "When Brother Fergus Dennis came, our membership was 11; our debt was $1,770. From May 1888 to May 1889, we raised and paid for all purposes $10,993.90 and the membership increased to 114 members."

Brother Dennis was paid $2 a week his first year, with another $2.25 to Brother George Van Acker to transport him. By 1908 his salary had risen to $650 a year. During this time the church purchased additional ground and built its Epworth League and Sunday School Room.

Milestones. Other salient moments from the church history as written up by Richard Wheeler

• In September, 1916, Mrs. W.H. Mathews and Mrs. W.O. Thompson went without new spring dresses in order to purchase a new communion set for the church."

• "In 1917 the Ladies' Improvement Committee had the new kitchen built for $320.62."

• "Word got around in early 1921 of a lady who was interested in giving pipe organs to worthy churches. Mrs. W.H. Mathews was appointed to write her." The lady, Mrs. E.R. Voorhees of Clinton, replied, "We like to encourage everything of this kind, also, lend a helping hand where ever needed." She enclosed a check for $3,000.

The church received a complete refurbishing between 1921 and 1924, including new ceiling, floor, stained glass windows, pulpit, and choir chairs to go along with the new organ. On March 4, 1954, the church steeple was struck by lightning and partially burned. It was saved by the Kingston and Princeton fire companies, but it cost over $3,000 to repair.

In 1948, the Kingston church was made part of the Hopewell Parish, and in 1972 the Lambertville church was added. The Rev. David Probert, the current pastor, lives in the Hopewell parsonage. He preaches at Kingston at 9 on the first and third Sundays and at Hopewell at 11.

The Rev. Roland Strang, the associate minister, lives in the Lambertville parsonage and preaches in Lambertville on the first and third Sundays and in Kingston and Hopewell on the second and fourth Sundays.

Celebration of the 100th anniversary has brought past ministers, the District Superintendent and Bishop C. Dale White to preach at special Sunday afternoon services. Special music has been provided by choirs from a number of different churches. The culmination of the celebration will be a banquet at the Kingston United Presbyterian Church on May 21.

However illustrious the past, the future of the church is problematical. According to Mr. Wheeler, who is treasurer as well as historian, there are 43 individual members in the Kingston Church, of whom all but three are on Social Security. There have been efforts made to enlist new and younger members from the new developments in the surrounding area, but the spirit of religious awakening is not what it was when the church was founded 100 years ago.

—Barbara L. Johnson

PANEL DISCUSSION SET

On Right To Die. A panel composed of a physician, rabbi, and an attorney will discuss "The Right to Die" at the annual meeting of the Princeton Memorial Association on Sunday afternoon at 2:30, in the Chambers Street building of the Nassau Presbyterian Church, Princeton. The public is invited.

Prior to the discussion, Peter B. Putnam, president of the Association, will conduct a brief business meeting, including the election of new officers. He will then introduce Dr. Harvey Rothberg, Rabbi Melvin Glatt and attorney Thomas P. Cook, panelists.

The Princeton Memorial Association is the oldest funeral society in New Jersey. A non-profit organization, it offers its members the information and the encouragement they need to plan for death in advance, thereby avoiding the kind of emotional pressure that can lead to more elaborate or more expensive funeral arrangements than the family of the deceased can afford.

CROP WALK PLANNED

On Saturday, A 10-mile CROP walk to raise funds for the hungry of the world will be held on Saturday. The walk will start at the Jadwin Gym parking lot at 1:30.

Joggers are also encouraged to come out and run the 10 miles, and walkers are urged to bring family and friends on the walk. Recruitment sheets are available at the Senior Resource Center on Harrison Street, the Historical Society on Nassau Street, the Princeton Day School library or the CROP office at 125 Washington Street, Rocky Hill. Walkers and joggers sign up sponsors who will pledge so much per mile walked or run.

For information call 924-6466 during the day or 921-3737 at night.

BULLETIN NOTES

Rev. Dr. Jacob J. M. Ndlovu, principal-designate of the United College of Education in Bulawayo, Rhodesia, will be lecturer in a program to be presented at the Princeton University Chapel on Sunday at 8 p.m. He will speak on the present crisis and future of Africa. The lecture is open to the public without charge.

The combined choirs of St. James Roman Catholic Church, Pennington, and the Jamesburg Presbyterian Church will present a program of sacred music Sunday at 4 in the Jamesburg Presbyterian Church. The choirs will be under the direction of Patricia Wight from St. James Church and Pamela Brackbill from the Jamesburg Church. David Forman, organist of the Jamesburg Church, will be the accompanist.

There is no admission charge, but an offering will be taken for Westminster Choir College which co-sponsored "A Festival of Singing Children" in Newark at which these two groups performed.

The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction, will sponsor a tour to the Duke Gardens in Manville Sunday afternoon. The group will meet at the church at 1:30. The cost is $2.50 and will include a guided tour through the many different gardens within greenhouses on the estate.

Jan Frick, 799-9474, is chairman, the Rev. Frederick Schott, 799-1753, is pastor.

The Christian Singles Fellowship, which meets at Nassau Presbyterian Church, will take a trip Sunday to Sleepy Hollow in Tarrytown, N.Y. The day will include worship at the First Reformed Church, Tarrytown, a tour, lunch, art, fellowship, history and exercise. Fran Beyea is in charge.

The annual smorgasbord supper sponsored by the Trinity Episcopal Church, Crescent Avenue, Rocky Hill, will be held Saturday from 4:30 to 7:30. The cost for adults is $4.50 and for children $2. For tickets and further information call 924-1468 or (201) 359-6108.

Bunker Hill Lutheran Brethren Church, Bunker Hill Road, Griggstown, will feature the Eastmen Quartet in sacred concert Friday at 7:30. The Eastmen were organized in 1960 and since then have travelled extensively throughout the U.S. and Canada singing solid gospel music. They have maintained a weekly radio program and have appeared on television.

The third annual Bazaar sponsored by Congregation Beth Chaim of West Windsor will be held Sunday from 10 to 6 in the Warren Plaza West Shopping Center, Route 130 and Dutch Neck Road, East Windsor. There will be clothing, books, classical and rock records, handbags, fabrics, ice buckets and other knick-knacks. New this year is an area for crafts-people to sell and demonstrate their wares.

Mrs. Margaret Kersey, widow of a former minister at The Kingston United Methodist Church, Church Street, Kingston, will present a special program in art Sunday at 4. Special music will be provided by the Kingston Presbyterian Church Choir. The service is part of a series in celebration of the church's 100th anniversary.

A period of refreshment and fellowship will follow the service.

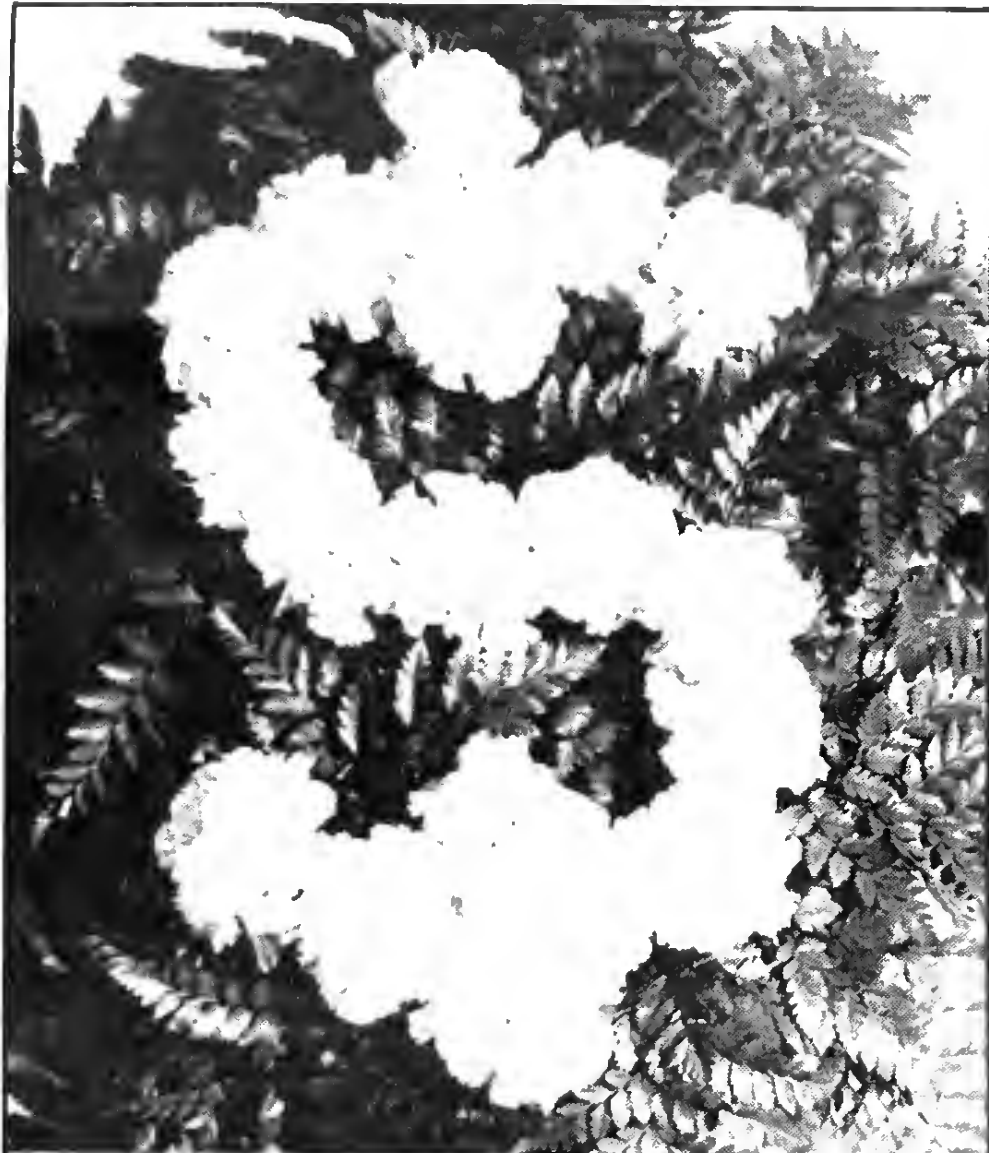

Chris Christian, producer, writer, musician and singer will be featured in concert Thursday, April 27 at 8 in McCosh 10.

Chris has not only written for Elvis Presley, Olivia Newton-John, Donnie and Marie Osmond, B.J. Thomas and others, but he is also an accomplished musician on the guitar, banjo and piano. He has two albums, "Chris Christian" and "Chance" on Myrrh Records.

This concert is sponsored by New Creature Concerts and Living Word, Inc. Donations are $2 for students, and $3 for non-students. However, if you can't afford it, give what you can. For further information call the Lamplighter Bookstore at 921-3366.

REFUGEE RELOCATION

By the Rev. Allen A. Gartner
Pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah

I suspect that each of you has had an experience of working with a group of people with whom it is a joy to work. The work is done with both harmony and productivity.

Such has been the experience of the Ad Hoc Committee on Refugee Relocation. From its inception this has been an ecumenical group with representatives from many of the congregations of Princeton, the "Y", and both Princeton University and Princeton Seminary.

The community hasn't heard much from this hard working group of people in some time. By way of making a report to the community and seeking additional volunteers this article is now appearing.

In good Princeton tradition the work of this committee has been well done. Funds have been raised and dispersed to help two Vietnamese families. In fact, a small company was brought into being to enable some of the Vietnamese to make use of their sewing talents and to earn some money for themselves. The company is "Paschal Arts," and it makes vestments and choir robes for use by the churches.

Our families have been assisted with housing, clothing, employment, English, education, food stamps, transportation, and making it through the various public offices to secure the kind of help that was needed. Indeed, there is no way adequately to measure the kind of personal support that has been extended to our two families.

For the most part the families are now on their own except for providing them with a continuing support system, such as all of us need from time to time. Although we have dispersed over $11,000 for refugee relocation, we are not at present making any financial contributions. In fact, we have a limited amount of cash on hand to be used for emergencies or educational or other special needs.

Members of the committee have been good friends to these refugee families. In some cases it has gone beyond friendship to being family to those who left Vietnam.

There has been real commitment on the part of the members of the Ad Hoc Committee on Refugee Relocation to carry through on the task that needed to be done. We even have a commitment from a number of the members of the committee to stay together and to HELP others to take up the task, so that a new family can be brought into our community.

If we are to expand the work of this committee, we also need to expand the committee. Our need is for people with a heart for people, who are willing to reach a helping hand to others.

One such new member of the committee is the husband and father of one of the refugee families who has committed himself to do "anything" to provide the kind of help for another family that has been extended to his family. Would you like to help? Please send a note to the writer at 407 Nassau Street. You will be contacted.

Mrs. Marion E. Compton, 88, of 207 Ingleside Avenue, Pennington, died April 20 in Princeton Medical Center. Mrs. Compton was a lifelong Trenton resident where she was a member of Trinity Cathedral.

Wife of the late George Compton, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Marion

OBITUARIES

Lloyd K. Neidlinger, 76, a former football coach at Princeton and former dean at Dartmouth College, died April 22 in Cape Cod Hospital, Chatham, Mass. Mr. Neidlinger was a member of the football and hockey coaching staff in the late 20's while attending the School of Architecture at Princeton.

Born in Brooklyn, N.Y., he graduated from Dartmouth in 1923 where he studied business and was an All-American tackle in football and a goalie on the hockey team. In 1922 he kicked a 51-yard field goal against Harvard that still stands as the school record.

Mr. Neidlinger was assistant to the president of Peerless Tool Co. for four years before entering architecture school here in 1927. He worked as an architect in Boston after leaving Princeton and became assistant dean at Dartmouth in 1933. He was named dean a year later and served until 1952.

He then served as the executive director of the U.S. Council of International Chambers of Commerce for the next 10 years and also as the director of college recruitment for International Paper.

Surviving are his wife, Marian Walker Neidlinger; three daughters, Mary Kilmarx of Barrington, R.I., Susan McLane of Concord, N.H. and Sally Hudson of Squaw Valley, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Helen Hall of Summit, N.J.; 11 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The service was held in the First Congregational Church in Chatham. A memorial service will be held Saturday in Rollins Chapel, Hanover, N.H.

Mrs. Anna A. (Nina) Viarengo, 90, of Princeton Junction, died April 22 at her home.

Mrs. Viarengo was born in Montemarzo d'Asti, Italy, and came to the United States in 1906. She was married in 1907 to John B. Viarengo who died in 1970.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edward W. Atkinson of Princeton Junction; two sons, Dino E. Viarengo of Sun City, Ariz., and Hugo E. Viarengo of Kennett Square, Pa.; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Paul's Church with burial in St. John's Cemetery, Queens.

MEET SPRING ON ROLLINGMEAD

On one of the prettiest lots in town! Dogwood - azaleas - lilacs - daffodils - and a charming brick and frame house sheltered by towering pines.

Entertainment sized living room, formal dining room, both with fireplaces, efficiency kitchen and cozy breakfast room. Upstairs, spacious master bedroom and bath, plus 3 other bedrooms and hall bath. Separate shed garage.

And of course, your own wee babbling brook. A place to see and love. Just $135,000 is this large rambling story and a half in a most prestigious section.

A HOUSE FOR ALL SEASONS

Four king sized bedrooms, nearly new celery carpeting and custom drapery throughout the spacious living areas, and two flagstone patios from which to view the woodsy acre and a half.

If you are interested in quality construction, you can't afford to miss this one. It's irreplaceable at the newly reduced price of $119,500

THE GAMBOLING LAMBS

and bleating sheep are all present on our eleven acre mini farm in Hopewell Township. So is an old stone farmhouse, added to over the years by many generations. Three or four bedrooms, one with fireplace, two baths, marvelous farm kitchen with walk in fireplace, and a plant filled sun porch.

Add a large and sturdy three story barn, chicken sheds of course, and a smoke house - all on those high, wooded and boulder strewn acres, bordered by a brook

If farming - either gentleman or practical - could be a dream come true for you, call us now. Offered at $160,000

Immaculate three bedroom, two bath ranch on a nicely landscaped acre. Living room, separate dining room, family room with fireplace. And best of all, in an attractive, friendly young neighborhood served by the excellent Montgomery Township schools. $110,000

STUART ROAD, RIDGEVIEW ROAD AND THE GREAT ROAD

in two of Princeton Township's finest locations, we are offering six handsome building sites. Solar Constructors, Inc., the builder-owner of the lots, each no less than two acres, will build from your architect's plans, or have a contemporary house designed and built for you. Prices will start at $180,000

New Listing PRINCETON

Located on the northern end of Walnut Lane this one story house offers a convenient location and easy maintenance.

To one side of the entry hall is a bright living room with a wall of windows and a raised brick hearth fireplace.

Two side halls lined with shuttered doors provide storage and house laundry facilities.

There are two comfortable bedrooms with huge closets, a hall bath and a spacious master bedroom with a wall of closets and bath.

A 1971 addition provides a contemporary kitchen-butcher block counters, cooking island with breakfast bar, a striking oak panelled wall and a skylight, a separate room for a quiet retreat or fourth bedroom; and there's an open, versatile living area adjacent to the kitchen for dining and relaxing. Sliding glass doors open to a brick patio and treed, fenced yard.

There's a new heating system and an oversized 2 car garage. $124,000

SPECTACULAR PRINCETON CONTEMPORARY... A 90' skylighted gallery-hall with indoor marble pond provides dramatic access to the spacious living-dining room, and also creates a flow for gracious entertaining to the other living areas in this impressive one floor architect - designed residence. The entire interior is a fine blend of glass, marble, oak and brick. Four bedrooms and three and one half baths ... plus the master suite with study - sitting area, dressing rooms, exercise room with sauna and a screened-in flagstone floor sky - lighted porch. On three landscaped terraced acres with pool entertainment complex and lighted tennis court.... $350,000

OUR NEWEST LISTING IS A DREAM! Nestled midst the trees and boulders of Stuart Road, it's a Williamsburg colonial that bursts forth into lots of contemporary living levels on the side you can't see from the road! Mr. Blandings could not have improved upon this Bucer-built cedar-sided, four bedroom, four-bath house that's perfect from stem to stern. The master suite and living room both open by sliding doors to the deck from which to observe the wild flowers and wild life! (There's a particular watchful mockingbird who comes with this listing!) Just-right kitchen, near the cozy study and formal dining room which opens to its own patio! Wet bars in the pantry and game room, walk-in fireplace in the comfortable family room! Please come see this for yourself with an excited Henderson agent!

HERE IS A HOUSE FEW COULD RESIST! Seven years young, and completely redecorated just about two years ago, this house gleams from inside out! It's a sprawling colonial without being "too big" that welcomes a growing family and all the friends that go with one! True family kitchen just off the patio, overlooking one of Princeton's last farms. Five bedrooms and three and a half well-appointed baths. Marvelous storage, and neat as a pin throughout, the living room with bay windows, formal dining room, study, paneled family room with fireplace. Minimum outside maintenance because it's cedar-sided and the two acres abound with natural plantings and tall trees. Seeing is believing, so we invite you come!

A COMPLETE REAL ESTATE ORGANIZATION

WHEN IS THE BEST TIME TO SELL A HOUSE?
Right now is certainly one of the best: the real estate market is probably most intense at this time of year; any house on the market will probably be shown more and receive more and better offers than at most other times. For example, just within the last week, many of the current area listings have gone to contract. The sales personnel with the Rendall-Cook office have been involved in many of these sales

WHEN IS THE BEST TIME TO BUY A HOUSE?
At this time, the selection of available houses is definitely better than at other times of year. While the prices are likely to be higher than in the recent past, they should never be expected to decrease to those levels, but should in fact be expected to continue to climb. The real estate market in the greater Princeton area continues to be very solid. The Rendall-Cook personnel are actively involved in activities within the real estate market.

WHY WORK WITH RENDALL-COOK & COMPANY?
Our office continues to be an office with expert real estate professionals. The concerns of each of our clients become our own concerns; we strive to satisfy the real estate needs of each customer. For prompt, thorough assistance, call us — we would like to help you

HOUSES STILL AVAILABLE (THIS WEEK!)

This attractive split-level house is in a quiet spot, has a private, terraced area behind it, yet is close both to neighbors and to commuter routes. There is a formal living room and dining room, a large, very unusual family room (raised, brick-wall fireplace, cedar shakes, bookshelves), an eat-in kitchen, and a powder room. Upstairs are the master bedroom and bath, 2 other bedrooms, and a hall bath. Some appliances are negotiable, lots of extras are included $76,000

A park and tennis courts next door fruit trees, landscaped patio with a rural view, and much more in this attractive colonial on a cul-de-sac. The landscaping is complete and unusual; the front-to-back entrance hall leads to the patio, the living room has a fireplace; the family room is wonderfully sunny, a large, eat-in kitchen, a dining room, and a half bath round out the first floor. Upstairs are all four bedrooms, two baths and the laundry $112,000

One of our new listings is a long, low and lovely ranch house on a beautifully landscaped corner. The many varieties of trees, the vegetable garden (including grapes and asparagus), and the attractive swimming pool, all enhance the outside. Inside the partly-brick exterior, the living area is spacious and attractive, with a gracious entrance hall, a living room with a marble fireplace, a nice dining room, a large family room, and an eat-in kitchen. There are five bedrooms, including a large master bedroom, 2½ baths, and a utility room $159,500

[illegible]

A black and white photograph of a small, single-story house with a gabled roof. The house has a central entrance with a small porch, flanked by windows with dark shutters. A large tree stands to the left of the house, and a small white sign is visible in the foreground.

In Town centrally air conditioned Ranch in excellent condition on a quiet street yet convenient to town and communication. Large living room with fireplace, dining room, eat-in kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths complete the main floor. The panelled family room, plus a study or 4th bedroom and powder room are on the lower level. The ¾ acre lot is professionally landscaped with a heated free-form pool. Offered at $125,000

Stunning Contemporary Estate near completion of beautiful rolling meadow land of nearly 12 acres in Montgomery Township. The unparalleled 180 degree panoramic views reach to eight miles past the Sourland and Watchung Mountains and rival those of Vermont. There is $15,000 of Thermopane glass alone in this imaginative modern estate home bringing the magnificent surroundings right inside. The four bedrooms and six bathrooms form a "U" shape, embracing a court yard.

The large sunken living room with a full wall hearth gives off to a charming private art gallery. Entertainment areas all look out through full glass walls on the views. The family room is unparalleled with its own raised hearth. The master suite has his and her bathrooms.

The beautiful winding 800-foot driveway is lined on both sides with splendid Douglas Fir and hemlock trees as it continues under the breezeway into the inner courtyard. The house is 140 feet long. Unmatched. $350,000

IN WEST WINDSOR

So well located for the commuter this is a lovely country property. Four bedrooms, two full baths and a powder room. Handsome living and dining rooms, country kitchen and charming den or additional guest room. $650 a month

Available June first, a pleasant house with living-dining combination space, a thoroughly modern kitchen and three bedrooms, two baths. $575 a month

Our new listing on 2 plus acres on the Western end of town. Custom built brick 1½ story house. Gracious foyer and front hall. Living room with fireplace, separate dining room, panelled family room with built-in bookcases, and a screened porch are just the beginning of the advantages of this house. There is a large country kitchen with bay window in eating area. 3 bedrooms and 2 tiled baths complete the first floor. The second story has a bedroom with full bath plus a study or 5th bedroom. Large attic with excellent expansion possibilities. The grounds are spacious and there is ample room for both a tennis court and swimming pool. Offered at $169,500.

Here is a superbly constructed modern house in traditional Colonial design. The formal entrance hall opens to large living room, family room with raised hearth fireplace and spacious dining room for entertaining. There is in addition a family eating area in the contemporary kitchen. Upstairs are four bedrooms with excellent closet space. The house has double glazed pop-out windows throughout.

The property is a true mini-estate of over two and a half acres, beautifully wooded, and includes a stream. This fine country home is priced at $101,000

This is a spacious country property of over three acres offering privacy yet superb location just off the Great Road. Particularly handsome frame and stone New Jersey farmhouse with unusually large rooms. Both the formal step-down living room and the large open-beamed study open to the stone patio so ideal for summer entertaining. There is a free-form in-ground swimming pool just beyond.

On the second floor the master's suite is particularly large and well-designed. There are three family bedrooms, three full baths and a powder room in this outstanding country house.

THE COUNTRY MOUSE LOVED THIS HOUSE... and all that went with it, too! There's a large, very high two-story barn with weathervane, a sturdy stable and tack room for two or three horses, four acres of woods, pasture and brook, brick paths, grape arbor...and lest we forget...one of the truly vintage colonials in our entire area! In view of the Bedens Brook course, this house offers a superb double living room with beamed ceilings, rich wooden floor, great fireplace, library corner, just off the snug richly panelled dining room with fireplace and beamed ceiling, den, full bath, cloak room and kitchen, too! A divine master suite with sitting room, fireplace and full bath, four other bedrooms and two full baths. Asking a bit over two hundred thousand dollars!

Heat for Your Home, Food for Your Table: Solar Greenhouse Is Today's Daily Double

A SUN HOUSE: Actually, this picture was taken on a cloudy day, spring in New Jersey being what it is. But designer Bill Braham (right) thinks his solar greenhouse can store heat for two or three days and maybe provide half the heat for a house. The banner reads: "Engineering 314, Solar Research Project" and it was made by the daughter of Professor Steve Slaby (left).

Heat your living - room and grow vegetables at the same time? Just call on the sun.

A solar greenhouse, free - standing at the moment but adaptable to union with the south wall of your living - room, has been designed and built as a Princeton University senior thesis by a student named Bill Braham.

You can see it for yourself on Sun Day, Saturday, May 6, because it will be part of that day's celebration of solar energy. You'll have to make the trek into the campus to see it because, with an 18 - inch - deep foundation, it's not exactly portable.

The greenhouse has been put together as part of the course work in a seminar, "Technology and Society," conducted by Prof. Steve Slaby of the engineering department. Mr. Braham won't be a senior until next year, but this isn't an overnight project and he still has work to do on it.

The 10 x 16 foot greenhouse turns its long side to the south, holding up a pitched, glazed roof to catch the sun (Glazing, now completed, hadn't yet been started when the photograph on this page was taken.)

A Layer of Air, Double. pane glazing consists of fibreglas on the outside, a layer of air as the filling in the sandwich and flexible plastic on the inside. Glass is expensive and, of course, breakable.

From time to time, TOWN TOPICS looks in on Princeton University to see what research projects are under way. This one has a close link with the Princeton community and the coming "Sun Day."

This combination of plastics is almost as clear and transmits as much light, Mr. Braham says. It also diffuses the light so that plants aren't burned, as they could be under a single layer of glass. Condensation is minimized by a coating of clear plastic painted on the inside of the fibreglas so that condensation can run down, and holes drilled along the bottom to let the water out.

"It's what we call a 'passive system,'" the designer explains. "That means there are no mechanical parts. 'Active' systems have pumps and ways to store heat to achieve higher temperatures."

Against the back wall are 18 black - painted 30 - gallon drums filled with water. Shiny aluminum covers the wall behind them. If the greenhouse were attached to your living - room, the slant of the peak would be less, and there would be fewer drums.

The sun comes in and hits the black drums. If they were not there to absorb the heat, the temperature in the greenhouse would shoot to around 150 to 180 degrees. But the drums soak it up, and the daytime temperature of the greenhouse will be around 60 to 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

The Key to Success. Tight insulation is the key to the success, Mr. Braham explains. That 18 - inch foundation depth has three inches of styrofoam. Walls have four inches of fibreglas and the slant is protected by six inches.

"Depending on how cold it is," Mr. Braham says, "we think heat should last two or three days, if the weather turns cloudy, and it will drop slowly."

As a booster, the greenhouse has two "active" panels consisting of black - painted steel and copper tubes filled with water and covered with glazing. These will be outside the greenhouse. Water will flow through them during the day, be heated, and then stored under ground in two drums. When the temperature gets too low for the plants inside the greenhouse, heat can be pumped through the planting beds.

"It's easier to heat the soil than the air in the greenhouse," Mr. Braham

YES, IT'S TRIANGLE: May not look like the traditional kick-line, but it's a scene from a Triangle Club show, navorthalass. "Exam" is the name of this particular skit from Triangle's "Chile Today, Guacamole," opening Thursday night. The protaating atudent is Coco Myara.

News Of The THEATRES

CURTAIN GOING UP
On Triangle. It may indeed be "Chile Today," New Jersey weather being as fickle as it is, but as for ".....Guacamole," well, you'll have to stop by McCarter this week-end and see for yourself.

"Chile Today, Guacamole," is Triangle Club's 89th annual musical, and it opens this Thursday at 7:30 and will play this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30.

Triangle has decided on the revue format this year, rather than a musical with a book, and according to the publicity, it's going to be a "shining revue of contemporary college life."

There has already been a run-through for Triangle's board of trustees. That was last Wednesday, and it apparently went very well. The cast of 60 men and women, their tech crew and director Milton Lyon are ready for that opening night curtain.

RAITT, REDBONE

At Dillon. "Part soul, part blues," she says, "I don't play exactly like a black person or a white person or a boy or a girl."

Bonnie Raitt. The red-headed blues-folk-rock singer will give a concert in Dillon Gym on the Princeton campus Saturday, May 13, at 8 p.m. under McCarter's auspices. She will share the stage with Leon Redbone and his cool, reedy baritone.

Raitt has built her reputation on the blues, performed with a blend, says McCarter, of "soul and sass." Redbone appeared from nowhere several years ago, peering at the world through smoked glasses, dressed in a white suit and panama hat, brandishing a uke and a skinny cigar.

He sings things like "Shine on, Harvest Moon," or "Marie," and she does "Don't Wanna Be Your Sugar Mamma No More" or "Give It Up or Let Me Go."

ON FILM.....

Experimentals Coming. A special program of experimental films is coming to McCarter early in May, but before that, the theatre will show Alain Tanner's French comedy, "Jonah Who Will be 25 In the Year 2000." It's to be screened next Wednesday and Thursday, May 3 and 4, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. in McCosh 10.

"Jonah" deals with a group of characters trying to humanize the grim, gritty industrial landscape they live in.

In McCarter Theatre itself, a program of experimental films from 19 different film-makers will be shown Friday, May 5, at 8 p.m.

The longest of the films, "Spaceborne" (14 minutes in length), depicts the exploration of space, using rare footage from NASA's archives.

The shortest of the films, "Bambi Meets Godzilla," (one minute in length) is a spoof of endless film credits, complete with epic ending.

PLAY IT AGAIN, WOODY

Community Players. Woody Allen's comedy, "Play It Again, Sam," will wind down the season for Princeton Community Players with an opening night this Friday, performances again on Saturday and Sunday and the following week-end, and final performances Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13.

The showcase is the Players' theatre at 171 Broadmead. Curtain time is 8:30, except for Sundays when the play will start an hour earlier.

"Play It Again, Sam," in which the playwright himself starred on Broadway, is the story of a man whose wife has just dropped him with such a thud that all his subsequent efforts to attract women collapse hopelessly.

His movie idol, Humphrey Bogart, comes into focus with every crisis, urging him to "treat 'em rough." Finally, when the wife of his best friend helps him in a way she didn't quite intend, there is an admirer, "Gee, kid, that was great" from the shade of Bogart himself.

Lew Gantwerk will play the Woody Allen role, Louise
Arnold will be the friend's wife, and Allen I. Rowe, the friend. Bogart will be played by Jack DiMonte. Others in the cast are Barbara Feldman (she's stage manager, too),
Diane Markee, Areta Oebel,
Deanna Baron, Brenda Nolan and Marie Rosenblad.

For the opening night audience, there will be the customary after-show reception to meet members of the acting company. Tickets may be reserved at 921-6314.

BIRTHDAY!

For Ballet Company. The
15th birthday of the Princeton Ballet Company will be marked by a week-end of dance at McCarter Theatre
May 13 and 14, and part of the program will be the raffle during a Saturday night intermission of a Pan American trip to England for two.

Six dance works will be given on the opening night,
Saturday, May 13, starting at 8 p.m. "Stars and Stripes" pas de deux and "Valse Fan-tasie," both choreographed by George Balanchine; the
"Corelli Concerto" of Alexei Yudenich; "The Times They Are A-Dancin' by Jorge
Samaniego; Myra Kinch's satirical "To Unfurl the Fan" and a new work combining jazz and "pointe"
choreographed by Virginia
Griffie, formerly of the American Ballet Theatre and now on the staff of the Princeton Ballet School.

It's not just money. McCarter Associates must double its membership because corporations and foundations want to be sure a theatre has strong community support before they open their wallets.

It is quite possible, for example, that the present Ford Foundation grant to McCarter wouldn't have been made if Ford hadn't felt that the theatre had the support of the community.

McCarter Associates now has some 1,800 individual members. It wants, needs, must have, twice as many. Volunteers are now conducting a telephone campaign, hoping to sign up that additional 1,800.

"Community" doesn't mean just Princeton, or even its environs. Volunteers have been making calls throughout New Jersey and into Pennsylvania, starting with subscribers to the plays and going on from there.

Anyone may become an Associate. The 1,800 are commuters, housewives, students, newcomers, old-timers. For a $25 membership fee - or more, if they wish - they are entitled to a 30 percent discount on season tickets. They may join backstage tours that are given from time to time. And of course, their names appear in the McCarter programs.

The goal is to double the 1,800 before the end of June of this year - the end of McCarter's fiscal year.

If you're not an Associate and would like to be, you may call the Associates at 452-6122 week - days, or the McCarter box office at 921-8700 and ask for a brochure, describing the Associates and explaining how to join.

News of the Theatres

Sunday afternoon at 3, the Princeton Ballet Company will dance the full-length "Coppelia." Frederic Franklin, who danced the role of Franz with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, has choreographed the Delibes score.

Tickets, at $5 and $7.50 for Saturday night and $4.50 and $6.75 for "Coppelia," may be purchased at the McCarter box-office.

TRIP TO NEW YORK

Theatre Party. A theatre-supper-bus party to New York to see David Mamet's "A Life in the Theatre" is being sponsored for Sunday by Creative Theatre Unlimited.

Theatre-goers will leave the Princeton Shopping Center by bus at 4:45 to attend "A Life in the Theatre" at the Theatre de Lys in Greenwich Village. A box supper, described by CTU as "gourmet," will be served en route.

The $20 cost per person, includes the theatre ticket, round-trip bus, box supper and a $5 tax-deductible contribution to Creative Theatre. Reservations may be made by calling 924-3489 or 921-2250.

Clive Barnes wrote, "A Life in the Theatre" is a night gorgeously spent. I wholeheartedly recommend it."

PERFORMANCE PUT OFF

Of "Trial By Jury." The performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "Trial by Jury" planned by the Princeton University Glee Club for this weekend in Alexander Hall have been postponed until next season.

"We fell behind in our preparation," said Prof. Walter Nollner, conductor of the group. "Specifically, illness led to a shortage of tenors for the jury and the chorus of spectators, and we would not have been able to give the work the quality of performance that is its due," he said.

MUSICAL OFFERED

By Lawrenceville School. For its 160th major stage production, the Periwig Club of The Lawrenceville School will present Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific," for two performances Friday and Saturday in the Kirby Arts Center on the school's campus.

The curtain rises on Friday at 8 and on Saturday at 7:30. Ticket reservations may be made through the Jigger Shop (telephone 896-0620) and admission is $1.50.

Kurt Steinhauer and Michelle Nicastro, who had the leads in Periwig's production of "Oklahoma!" last year, will be teamed again in the roles that Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza made famous. Miss Nicastro is a senior at Stuart Country Day School and Steinhauer is a Lawrenceville senior.

Other students in the cast of more than 50 include David Stephens, James Kuser, Meghan Ainspac, Ken Keuffel and Kendall Harmon, all of Lawrenceville; Chris Kuenne, Jeff Moore, Ross Satterwhite, Ed Gibson and Ted Henning all of Princeton.

WINS COMPETITION

For Soloist With MCSO. Cynthia Khachadurian, 14-year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Avril Khachadurian, 22 Philip Drive, a sophomore at Princeton High School, has been named winner of the Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra Soloist Competition for 1977-78.

She will perform the "Piano Concerto No. 2, Op. 18" by Sergei Rachmaninoff on Wednesday, May 10 at 8 with the youth orchestra in its Spring Concert at the Kirby Arts Center of The Lawrenceville School. Matteo Giammario will also conduct the Overture to the opera "Semiramide" by Rossini and "Symphony Metamorphosis" by Hindemith.

at age four, Cynthia has studied recently with Mrs. Dora Zaslavsky Koch of the Manhattan School of Music. At age seven, she presented a solo recital in Beirut, Lebanon, and at age nine, performed with the North Shore Philharmonic Orchestra in Illinois as a first prize audition winner.

A finalist at age 12 with the N.J. Symphony Orchestra, she was awarded the second highest award of excellence. Cynthia has played with the Collegium Musicum, and has been for the past two years the first prize winner of the Acuff and Gindhart competitions sponsored by the Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra as well as the first place winner of the Baldwin award for the State of N.J. She has given recitals for the Armenian Community of Detroit, Chicago and New York and appeared on Voice of America.

Cynthia Khachadurian

Princeton Chapter of the Society for the Preservation of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will present its annual show on Saturday at 8:14 in the auditorium of Steinert High School in Hamilton Square.

The concert is part of the 40th anniversary of the international organization which has designated April as "Harmony Month." The show will also be a salute to the song writer Irving Berlin who is celebrating his 90th birthday in May, and it will feature some of his best known songs.

The Princeton Chapter was founded in 1969 and boasts over 60 members from all walks of life. In addition to quartet singing, the Chapter has a chorus which sings under the name of The Garden Statesmen. Men of all ages and interests are invited to learn more about the Chapter and join in the fellowship and singing.

Weekly meetings are held on Tuesdays at 7:45 at the United Methodist Church, Nassau and Vandeventer Streets. Tickets for the show are $4 and may be ordered by calling 882-4647 or may be purchased at the door.

PIANIST TO PLAY

With New Jersey Symphony. The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra will make its fourth and last Princeton appearance for the season at McCarter on Wednesday, May 10, at 8:30.

Maestro Ling Tung, director of the Philharmonia Orchestra of Philadelphia and the Grand Teton Music Festival, will conduct a program which will feature Emanuel Ax playing the Chopin Piano Concerto No. 1 in E minor. The program will also include Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 3 ("Scottish") and Hindemith's Symphonic Metamorphosis. John Ellis will give his "warm-up" lecture on Monday at noon in the Bristol Chapel of Westminster Choir College.

Mr. Tung is the only Chinese born conductor performing outside China. A graduate of the Curtis Institute, he has been a guest conductor with the Pittsburgh, Indianapolis and Milwaukee Symphonies. He conducted with the Japan Philharmonic for six years and has had over 250 concerts in Europe with major orchestras.

Mr. Ax, the Polish-American virtuoso is known

Make checks payable to Princeton University Concerts

Please mail with this slip and STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE to Concert Office, Woolworth Center, Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. Tel. 924-0453, 10-4 weekdays.

Tickets will be mailed in the fall. Ticket orders will not be acknowledged.

chiefly for his renditions of Brahms and Chopin, though his talents extend far beyond the 19th century Romantics. He has been placed by one reviewer after a performance of Mozart's D Minor Concerto in the "tradition of the great master pianists."

Non-subscription tickets for the forthcoming concert are available and may be reserved in advance by calling the symphony box office, (201) 624-8203 between 10 and 5. Tickets reserved in this way may be picked up at McCarter one hour before but no later than 15 minutes before the concert. Tickets may also be purchased on the evening of the performance at McCarter.

Subscribers who cannot use their tickets are urged to telephone the Symphony Office as soon as possible. Tickets may also be returned to McCarter Theater Box Office one hour before the performance.

General admission to Mr. Ellis' lecture is $2. For members of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League admission is free.

BENEFIT CONCERT SET

For Choir Fund. A benefit concert to help finance their trip to Spoleto, USA in Charleston, S.C. will be given by the Princeton High School Choir on Wednesday, May 3, at 8:30 in the High School Auditorium. The concert is under the direction of William Trego and Nancianne Parrella.

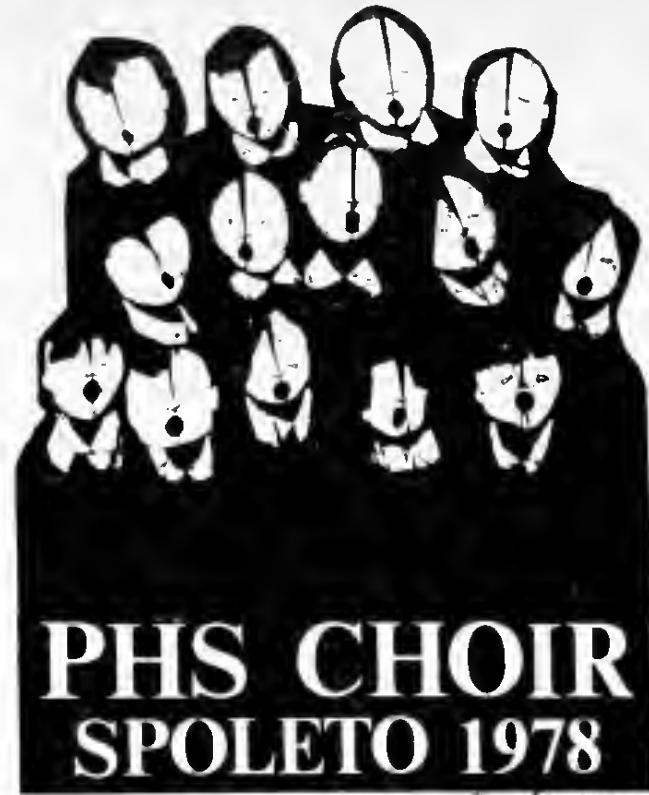

The highlight of the concert will be the singing of excerpts from Gian Carlo Menotti's opera, "The Egg," which the choir will perform at the Festival of Two Worlds. There will also be solo voice, piano and instrumental performances by choir members. The drawing of the winning ticket for a grandmother clock donated by Samuel Kind of LaVake Jewelers will be held during the intermission.

Tickets are available from the High School office at $2.50 for adults, $1 for students. In addition to the proceeds of this concert and other joint efforts of choir members and parents, contributions from individuals and firms in the area are being solicited.

Correction

In the advertisement for the concert given Sunday at the Unitarian Church, the name of Matthew Cahn, one of the artists, was inadvertently misspelled.

Prints of Robed PHS Choir for Sale To Aid in Supporting Trip to Spoleto

The visual and the performing arts have been linked together in the PHS Choir Fund drive toward Spoleto, U.S.A. The latest work of printmaker Trudy Glucksberg, whose son Kenneth is among those planning to be on the choir's "road trip," has come off the presses; it's a commemorative Spoleto poster.

The print, reproduced above, comes in several categories. Only a handful of the original, artist-pulled, numbered and signed copies are for sale. However, a signed reproduction of Spoleto 1978 has been made and will be for sale to poster lovers and collectors.

The large (17" x 23") picture features the robed choir; the print is a deep blue-black on a white background. PHS CHOIR and SPOLETO 1978 stand out in bold relief.

The choir will sponsor a booth at the Art People's Party on Saturday, May 6; those who buy the art of their choice will receive a Spoleto Poster free. Additional copies will be available at $4.

Tax deductible contributions may be made by check payable to the PHS Choir Fund and sent to J. Alfred Seitz at Princeton High School.

BRAHMS, HAYDN.....

In Guarneri Concert. Works by Brahms, Haydn and Debussy will be performed by the Guarneri Quartet when it comes to McCarter for a Music - at - McCarter performance Monday, May 8 at 8 p.m.

Pianist Claude Frank will join the group for the Brahms Piano Quartet in c Minor, and the program will also include the Haydn Quartet Opus 77, No. 2 and the Debussy String Quartet.

Formed in 1965, the Quar-neri takes its name from the family of Italian instrument-makers regarded by many musicians as being on a par with the more famous Stradivari family. Members of the Guarneri are Arnold Steinhardt and John Dalley, first and second violins; Michael Tree, viola, and David Soyer, cello.

SOPRANO TO SING

Accompanied by Flute, Piano. Soprano Judith Nicosia will give a concert on Sunday, May 7, at 3 in Woolworth Center, sponsored by the Friends of Music. She will be assisted by Jefferson Connell, pianist, and Jayn Rosenfeld, flute.

Ms. Nicosia will perform Telemann: Cantata; Brahms songs: Thea Musgrave: Primavera; Milton Babbitt: Vision and Prayer. Well known to Princeton audiences, having performed here on many occasions, she has also done extensive recital work in New York and across the U.S. She has been a finalist in major competitions and received the Fromm Fellowship to the vocal program at Tanglewood in 1973-75.

Last year Ms. Nicosia was a participant at the Ravel Academy vocal program, coaching with Pierre Bernac, international authority on French music. A member of the voice faculty at Westminster Choir College, she was a soloist with Robert Shaw in the Choir College summer workshop.

is the assistant conductor of Musica Alta, Anne Goldgar, Elizabeth Horn, Bruce Leon, Nan Mary Niemann, Benjamin Pyne and Laura Smietanka. They will perform on the flute, recorder, krumphorn, guitar and viola da gamba.

will be accompanied by Thomas Muraco, pianist, and will sing songs by Handel, Schubert, Copland, Debussy and Strauss.

A senior at Princeton, majoring in history, Miss Feder has given a number of performances under the auspices of the Friends. She also performs regularly with Musica Alta and has been a soloist with the Freshman Singers, Chapel Choir and sponsored Chamber Chorus.

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

(The following information was researched and written by members of the Regional Schools PTO Council, and the opinions expressed are not those of TOWN TOPICS.)

THE SPRINGTIME switch to a PRS central phone system has now been completed. For calls to any school or main office personnel just dial 924-5600. Only the Transportation office is an exception; that number, as before, is 924-9070.

WHERE DO THE ARTS and food march hand in hand? At the PTO's "Spring Marketplace", of course, this Sunday, April 30, from noon 'til five at Valley Road School. There will be burgers and franks hot off the grill manned by CP, while JP has tables featuring a variety of home-baked goods. Profits from this joint PTO venture will be shared to bring more cultural arts programs, experiences, and demonstrations into our district schools.

FIFTEEN SENIORS AT PHS have been named Finalists in the 1978 Merit Scholarship competition: Lisa Bienkowski, Lisa Curtiss, Stephen Doig, John Fischer, Amy Goldstein, Karen Liu, Andrew Loon, Steven Magee, Jonathan Miller, Niels Nielson, Eleanor O'Neill, Lesley Peebles, Mary Rosenbluth, Jeremy Stein, and Eric Tazelaar. Finalists represent less than one-half of one per cent of the nation's graduating seniors; our scholars represent over 5 per cent of the PHS Class of '78.

FOOD SERVICE'S DAVID LEE was one of the four thousand plus runners in last week's Boston Marathon. "It was wall-to-wall people," he reported, "and I never felt lonesome in that crowd." Because of an injured foot, Mr. Lee slowed his usual competitive pace to guarantee a finish - no drop-out, he - in an unofficial time of 4:03. Mrs. Lee joined the throng of well-wishers at the finish line, the PRS staff adds its "Congratulations" too.

ON TUESDAY, PHS FRESHMAN John Sullivan will be doing some heavy thinking and fast calculations as he participates in the Seventh USA Mathematical Olympiad. As a result of his scores in the Annual High School Mathematics Examination, John was invited to take part in this event, limited to approximately 100 students from all over the nation.

"SNOOPY COMES HOME" is the Saturday morning film for children. The one dollar admission will help send the PHS Choir to Spoleto, USA. It's at PHS at 10:30 a.m. with an hour and a quarter running time.

RS FIRST GRADERS in Miss Barbara Taylor's room will present "April's Rebellion", a play by Sheila Marshall at tomorrow morning's school assembly. There's even an added musical score with "April Showers" and "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head".

FOURTH AND FIFTH graders at JP followed up on the previous week's Science Fair with "hands-on" program on building concrete canoes. Several members of the Princeton University Engineering Club brought their racing canoe to help explain the design and crafting for this project.

MIDDLE STATES EVALUATION and parent input to the several committees will highlight the PHS-PTO meeting on Thursday evening, May 4. The meeting at 7:30 is open to the community at large.

ART
In Princeton

REOPENING ANNOUNCED
For Gallery of Fine Art. The Princeton Gallery of Fine Art which was totally destroyed in the Benson Building fire of January 1977 will reopen in an enlarged space at the second level of 162 Nassau Street during the coming week.

As in the past, the gallery will function as a primary source of museum quality works of art which include paintings, sculpture and graphics and will place even greater emphasis on serving as a resource for corporate involvement in the arts.

During the past year, the gallery owners and directors, Arline and Barry Snyder, have searched for a space that would meet the diverse artistic needs of the many art forms that the gallery has featured in the past. The new location will assure a multi-gallery facility. A series of galleries within a single space have been designed to provide a major exhibition area suitable for enjoying painting and sculptural works, as well as a facility tailored to the more intimate viewing needs of such works as photographs, drawings and fine art prints.

The gallery plans to open with an exhibition of important works of contemporary art including artists the gallery has shown in the past, combined with works by Jack Levine, Hans Hofmann, Rufino Tamayo, Thomas Hart Benton, George Grosz, Harry Bertoia and William King.

The gallery has implemented an exhibition policy designed to bring nationally and internationally known art to the Princeton community; exhibitions of the works of George Grosz, Abraham Walkowitz, B.J.O. Nordfeldt and Joseph Stella are among the many collections that have been featured. The Princeton Gallery of Fine Art has also been responsible for numerous innovative exhibitions in corporate and educational facilities in this area.

OILS ON VIEW
At Medical Center. The Medical Center will present the oil paintings of Anne Packard, a Princeton and Provincetown artist, during the months of May and June.

A member of the Province Art Association, Ms. Packard began her association with painting through her grandfather, Max Bohm, a turn-of-the-century romantic impressionist. Her paintings are portrayals of mood set in the context of New England's bays and coastline. She is noted for her ability to capture

Clubs and Organizations

The Princeton Alumnae Club of Kappa Alpha Theta will hold its last meeting of the season on Monday, May 1 at the home of Mrs. John D. Wallace. Guest speaker will be Dr. Pat Carrington, a clinical psychologist and lecturer at Princeton University, who has just written a book on Transcendental Meditation.

The business meeting will be devoted to plans for the May 19 Theta State Day, a luncheon meeting and workshop session at the Nassau Inn for New Jersey's 1,000 alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta. For additional information, call Mrs. Kenneth Fisher at 921-2146.

The Princeton Branch of American Association of University Women will meet Wednesday, May 3 at 7:30 at Princeton Seminary's Center for Continuing Education on Library Place. Dr. Jack Cooper, director of the Center, will discuss new programs in clergy continuing education and will tell how they reflect the continuing education movement in this country.

Refreshments will be served. Parking will be available behind the Speer Library off Stockton Street. For further information call Mrs. Rose Fishkin at 655-3393.

Membership in AAUW is open to any women in the greater Princeton area who is a graduate of an accredited college or university. For membership information, call Mrs. Lucy Menefee at 924-7051.

HONORED: From left, Art Abrahams, vice-president of the YMCA board of directors, presents a service award to Mrs. A.C. Raavas Hicks, Elric Endersby, Mrs. Berney Cooke and Mrs. Francis G. Clark for their management of the YMCA's annual Antiques Show and service to the YMCA. Mrs. J. Taylor Woodward also received an award. The ninth annual Antiques show will be held May 6 and 7.

The Women's College Club will hold its annual new members tea on Monday from 3 to 5 at the home of Mrs. M.A. Chooljian, 63 Winfield Road. New members to be honored are Mrs. H.J. Arensmeyer, Mrs. B.T. Carris, Mrs. John E. Finch, Mrs. Robert E. Flory, Mrs. Paul H. Gross, Mrs. John Helmick, Mrs. J. Scott Howard, Mrs. James Johnston, Mrs. Richard Middleton, Mrs. Jerome Minkin, Mrs. F.H. Nicoll, Mrs. Nat Robertson, Miss Mary Willcox, Mrs. H. Allen White and Miss Alice R. Braveman.

The Lawrence Township Senior Citizens Club I will meet Tuesday at noon for bingo in Legion Hall, 100 Berwyn Place, Lawrenceville. There will be a business meeting at 1 followed by a program of games.

The Princeton Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Thursday at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Mark M. Jones, 159 Library Place. The hostesses will be Mrs. Frank G. Evatt, Mrs. Ivan M. Monk and Mrs. James Schwartz. American heritage is the category for the meeting.

Mrs. Eldon F. Loats, chapter treasurer, will speak about the Montgomery Township Bicentennial patchwork quilt which she designed and sewed. The quilt will be on display, and a slide presentation of "Quilts Past and Present" will be shown.

Reports will be given by delegates to the State Spring Conference in Tinton Falls and delegates to the Continental Congress in Washington, D.C.

The N.J. State Chapter of P.E.O. will hold its annual convention May 3 and 4 at the Nassau Inn. Delegates from Chapter A E. are Mrs. Edward Ahrens and Mrs. Richard Katen; from Chapter Y, Mrs. Donald Arnold and Mrs. Roy Peterson; from Chapter A.M., Pennington, Mrs. J. T. Wadsworth and Mrs. Robert Thrower. These delegates will meet with delegates from 39 chapters in New Jersey.

Mrs. Marshall Douglas of River Edge, the state president, will preside. Mrs. Eleanor E. Hinton of Wellesley Hills, Mass., a past state president of Massachusetts and a member of the board of trustees of the P.E.O. Educational Fund, will be the guest of honor. P.E.O. is a philanthropic and educational organization interested in bringing to women increased opportunities for higher education.

The Lioness International will sponsor a craft show on Saturday, April 29 from 10 to 4 in the gym of the Valley Road administration building. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Mildred Lehnert and Mrs. Marie Geisenhoner. Mrs. Tilla Mains points out. "You can achieve about 55 degrees temperature in the soil, and the temperature in the greenhouse can go to freezing and the plants will be OK."

Solar Greenhouse

"Now we're trying to find a way to seal off the greenhouse from the rest of the house at night, so there is no heat loss for the house."

A Net Gain of Heat. Even with double glazing, by the way, glazing itself accounts for two-thirds of the heat loss; however, because of the sun, the designer says, there is a net gain of heat.

If you didn't need much heat to keep your plants alive, there's no reason why the passive system couldn't be used for the house. Heat built up during the day can be pushed into your house by natural convection. A hole in the top, leading to your living-room, would allow the heat to flow in. Another hole at the bottom would be for cold air. At night, if you wanted, the heat could go out of the house into the greenhouse.

Mr. Braham says, however, that this is true only to some degree.

But if you were to build a greenhouse the length of your house -- say, 30 feet -- you could probably collect more than enough heat.

And of course, you'd have plant benches with tomato plants, beans, broccoli, cabbage....

Immediate Use Seen. An immediate, practical use for the greenhouse, Prof. Slaby and Mr. Braham hope, could be for the old houses owned by Princeton University that will be moved to new locations on William Street.

"They are VERY costly to heat," Mr. Braham says, "around $1,800 a year! They have brick between the walls, and that actually conducts heat OUT!"

"We'd like to see the University take the lead here, by installing greenhouses to help heat these buildings."

So far, Mr. Braham and the seminar haven't studied cooling. He thinks it might be possible: solar heat might be used to expand the freon gas used as a coolant.

"Sure, you could build this yourself," Mr. Braham says. "Some of us who worked on this model had never even held a hammer before."

Four projects have grown out of Professor Slaby's seminar: this greenhouse, another on the roof of the Engineering Quadrangle, using exhaust air from the building for heat; a solar sludge dryer at the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority treatment plant and the William Street houses.

"A seminar like this," Prof. Slaby says, "gives students a chance to be creative. The seminar is called 'Technology and Society' and this term, the theme has been 'appropriate technology.'"

Another student, for example, is analyzing heat loss in the Quadrangle building itself. She is figuring out how it can be insulated whether black-painted walls to collect heat would be a good idea, how the building might better be insulated and glazed.

Meanwhile, Mr. Braham is looking forward to next year and the completion of his "thesis."

"I'm going to monitor the temperatures, work out the design principles for attaching it to a house.... I think it could carry about 50 percent of the heat of a house."

CHINESE AUCTION SET
By Deborah Chapter. The Princeton Chapter of Deborah will hold its fourth Chinese Auction, April 28, at 8 in the Elks Club on Route 518 in Blawenburg. The proceeds will benefit the Deborah Heart and Lung Center in Browns Mills.

Among the donated items is a porcelain Cybis Owl, an original artist's proof that is currently on view at Lavake Jewelers. Lavake and the Cybis Corporation donated the miniature sculpture. Other items include a radio, television set, small appliances such as a mixer and a blender, ice cream and yogurt maker, and an Icelandic blanket.

Deborah Hospital is described as an independent foundation which serves without regard to ability to pay. The difference between the cost of services and what a patient pays is made up with money derived from fund raising campaigns.

Serving as fund raising chairmen are Evelyn McKee with co-chairmen Laura Watson and Verna Anderson. Tickets are $1.25, which includes a buffet dessert, are available at the door or by calling Mrs. McKee at 924-4748 after 4:30 or Mrs. Watson, 924-0979.

CAREER EXERCISES SET
At YWCA. The YWCA will present The Career Skills Assessment Program of the College Board on Saturday morning, April 29. High school women and men and young adults beginning a career search will benefit from this program.

Three self-assessment exercises will be offered, career awareness skills, career decision-making skills, and employment-seeking information. Discussions will follow the administration, and everyone will be given a personal guide for the exercise in which they have taken part.

Early registration is recommended to assure a place in the exercise and discussion group of one's choice. The cost is $3 and a snack is included. The program will begin at 9 at the YWCA, Paul Robeson Place, and end at 12:30.

For further information call Ms. Listenbee at the YWCA, 924-4825 ext. 26.

ART AUCTION PLANNED

On May 13, The Lewis Clinic for Educational Therapy will sponsor a fund-raising art auction Saturday, May 13, at the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, Terhune Road. The preview will begin at 7:30 and the auction at 8:30.

Oils, watercolors, lithographs, enamels and sculpture will be provided by Fine Arts Gallery of Ardmore, Pa., and will include work by such internationally recognized artists as Leroy Neiman, Charles Parthesius, Hal Singer, James West and others. Opening bids will range from $15 to several hundred dollars and will be 20 to 60 percent below gallery prices.

There will be door prizes and a 50-50 raffle. Refreshments will be served. Tickets are $1.50 and are available at the door. All proceeds will benefit children with learning disabilities.

For information call Heather Herman, 488-2457 or Gayle Riggs (201) 521-3219.

Mr. Endersby, Director of the Princeton History Project and Editor of The Princeton Recollector will present a program entitled "Princeton in the Good Old Days." All Borough and Township senior residents are welcome to attend and to bring old photographs, letters, news clippings, recipes or other old materials for a program about the past.

Monthly birthdays and anniversaries will be celebrated.

The Professional Roster, a clearinghouse for job information in the college, business and research fields, will hold its annual meeting Thursday, May 4, at 8 in the Lounge at 5 Ivy Lane. The public is invited.

Dell Stifel, coordinator of the Women's Employment Program, will speak on "Your State Can Help You Get the Job You Want." A discussion period will follow.

Members attending the meeting will also elect executive officers for the 1978-79 year. Those nominated include Peg McGrew and Joan Wright, co-directors; Joan Pey, secretary; Helen Gorenstein, treasurer; Maureen Rosenhaupt, office manager; Ellen Avins, librarian; Erna Trubee and Helen Hiltner, counseling; Sherby McGrath, publicity; Mary Lou Boch, newsletter; Eleanor Speers, job development; Helen Rosenberg, Elly Stein, Ursula Treves and Rhoda Cohen, members at large. Nominations will also be taken from the floor with the consent of the nominee.

Quakerbridge Mall in Lawrenceville will host the second annual "New Books for Old" Sale sponsored by the Mercer County Chapter of Brandeis University National Women's Committee.

Nearly 10,000 used books of all types - both hard and soft cover and in all categories including juvenile, reference, foreign language, text, fiction, and non-fiction - will be sold Thursday through Sunday. Proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new books for the Brandeis University Libraries in Waltham, Mass.

Joel Jacobson, Commissioner of the state Department of Energy, will be the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the League for Conservation Legislation Saturday at Whig Hall on the Princeton University campus. Registration starts at 9.

followed by workshops on solar energy, casinos and environment in Atlantic City, and watershed protection.

Mr. Jacobson will talk at 1:30 p.m. on proposed legislation to transfer to his department the siting of nuclear power plants and other energy facilities. The registration fee is $4, $2 for students. The meeting is open to the public. For further information call John Greene 452-2439, or Ted Peck 452-2670.

When George Foster hit 52 home runs for the Cincinnati Reds last season, he became only the 10th man in the entire history of major league baseball to hit 50 or more homers in one season ... Can you name the other 9 men who've done it? ... They are Roger Maris, Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg, Mickey Mantle, Ralph Kiner, Hack Wilson, Willie Mays and Johnny Mize.

Here's a surprise ... Although Gene Mauch is considered one of baseball's smartest managers, he's now managed in the big leagues for 18 years and has never won a pennant -- and the only man in major league history who ever managed longer than that without winning a pennant was Jimmy Dykes, who went 21 years.

One of the strangest baseball records of all-time was set by outfielder Johnny Cooney who played in the big leagues for 23 years, from 1921 to 1944 ... Cooney hit only 2 home runs in those 23 years, but oddly enough, they came on successive days ... He hit one Sept. 24, 1939 and the other Sept. 25, 1939 -- and he never hit one the previous 18 years or the next 5 years.

I bet you didn't know ... that 51 percent of all Americans suffer a serious disability. If this happened to you would your loss of income policy protect you.

Spectators Sports Fade This Weekend as Tiger Teams Travel

Sports fans who have been watching everything from crew and lacrosse to baseball and tennis in sunny if chill weather for the past three weekends, will find virtually no action here Saturday. The lone event involving the Tigers at home is the Wood Hammond Cup race in which Princeton's unbeaten 150-lb. crew will oppose Pennsylvania on Lake Carnegie. Freshman, junior varsity and varsity shells will leave the stake boats at 15-minute intervals beginning at 4.

Princeton's lacrosse team will travel to Brown this Wednesday to face the last-place Bruins and head for New England again Saturday for a contest which will largely determine who will earn second-place honors behind Cornell. True, the Tigers are unbeaten at this point, but the defending champions have a 36-game winning streak going and are unlikely to be upset when they come to Palmer Stadium on May 6.

This weekend, Coach Mike Hanna's team will have a major test when it plays Harvard at Cambridge. The Crimson, a 17-7 victim here last spring, is greatly improved this year and has already recorded a 17-4 victory over Pennsylvania, last year's runner up.

Indications that Hanna has his players improving steadily came Saturday at Hanover, when the Tigers romped over Dartmouth, 21 to 5. Sophomore Dave Heubeck scored four goals and was credited with 11 assists, giving him 17 points in two Ivy games to date. As a freshman last spring, he scored 16 points in six games.

Tennis Team Leads League. Princeton's tennis team stayed atop the Eastern League standings by whipping Navy, 7-2, raising its overall record against the midshipmen to a somewhat unusual 28-0. Next day, the Tigers topped South Carolina, 6-3, to post an 8-3 mark for the season so far. Freshman Jay Lapidus, the Princeton resident, won three of his four singles and doubles matches.

The Tigers will face Columbia at New York Saturday and have Army and Cornell here on the league schedule before playing Harvard at Cambridge on May 9 in the match that should decide the 1978 title.

Half a length was Pennsylvania's margin of victory in a close race on Carnegie Saturday for the Child's Cup, which Princeton was defending. The Quakers, rated no. 1 in the East, won in 6:43 over 2,000 meters, to 6:45.5 for the Orange and Black. Princeton will row on the Charles River at Cambridge Saturday, with Harvard defending the Compton Cup against the Tigers and M.I.T.

Princeton's lightweights won the Platt Cup for the eighth year in a row, finishing a quarter of a length ahead of Cornell, with Rutgers better than two lengths back. In the third varsity event of the day, Syracuse defeated Rutgers by more than a length and a half.

Ball Team Collapses. Virtually every shortcoming that a team can display in baseball was debited to Princeton at one time or another Saturday afternoon on Clarke Field. By the time the long day was over, the Tigers had dropped 9-7 and 6-1 decisions to Navy, the double loss dropping them out of the Eastern League race.

In the first game, Andy Kannenberg and Paul Zoubek gave up 10 hits -- one of them a homer -- good for 16 bases that prevented some fairly robust hitting on the Tigers' part from bailing them out. They collected a dozen of their own, including three doubles, but poor fielding and some inept base running killed off their chances.

In the last of the fourth, three runs had been pushed across to pare a Navy lead from 7-2 to 7-5. With runners at first and second, two away and two strikes on cleanup hitter Vic Kurylak, Coach Len Rivers gave Scott Addis, the lead runner, the steal sign. With two strikes on him, Kurylak could not protect Addis by swinging at the pitch and when he was thrown out, the rally died. Two more runs which Navy pushed across in the top of the sixth offset Princeton's brief two-run flare-up in the last of the seventh.

Five Princeton errors and nine bases on balls made life easy for the visitors in the nightcap, particularly when the Tigers failed to hit safely in the first five innings. Hoon Mo Chung, whose control was faulty, was the victim of the sloppy fielding. The Tigers lack a single dependable pitcher, have numerous shortcomings defensively and frequently do not play smart baseball.

Wagner and Temple were on the schedule here Tuesday and Wednesday, with league games on tap this weekend at Hanover and Cambridge. Rutgers, victor over the Tigers earlier this month by a lopsided 17-5 margin, will be at Clarke Field next Monday and an improving Rider College team plays here Tuesday. All weekday home games begin at 3.

Last Thursday's game with St. John's was postponed because of wet grounds. It has now been rescheduled into a doubleheader for Friday, May 12.

PHS NIPS ALLENTOWN

For Fourth Win. Sometimes when things are going well for a team, it can steal victory in a game it probably should have lost.

That happened to Princeton High Monday. Held to just two hits, it used them well and managed to escape with a 4-3 triumph over visiting Allentown -- its fourth, equalling the most games ever won in a season by a team coached by Jim O'Neill, now in his fourth year at the helm. It was also its third win in a row -- another first.

"We lacked the intensity we should have," said O'Neill. "I was worried about the effect a sending Phox and Miller home.

Allentown (3-6) threatened to score in the third but a great play by Miller in left field cut down a runner at the plate. "It was a key play because we were ahead only 2-0 at the time," said O'Neill.

Kandell the Winner. Al Kandell pitched six innings for PHS to get the win. Phox came on in the last inning, and Allentown had the lead runners on first and third with one down. He got Capes, however, swinging on a curve ball on a 3-2 pitch and then fanned shortstop Chris Probasko to end it.

Allentown scored an unearned run in the fourth and two more in the sixth when it sandwiched two walks between singles by Probasko and Henry Ulrich. In all, Allentown collected six hits off Kandell and Phox.

Coming up for PHS are two important Colonial Valley Conference games. The Little Tigers will be at St. Anthony Thursday and play host to West Windsor Monday in a 3:45 contest. Home games are played at its new field on Valley Road.

FAST AND EASY

PHS Netmen Win, 5-0. When winless Allentown visited Princeton High, king of the tennis hill in this area, the outcome on Monday was wholly predictable.

Scott Clark, Allen Aronovic and Seth Thaler all won, 6-0, 6-0, in singles play, Princeton's top-seeded Clark needing only 18 minutes to erase Tony Inman.

In doubles play, Abe Witonsky and Pete Wilson won, 6-1, 6-1, while Roger Dinella and Rich Diefenderfer triumphed, 6-0, 6-1. PHS, which is now 5-1, will be at Ewing Thursday, entertain Moorestown Friday and West Windsor on Monday.

have nearly as much success in its game Monday against Allentown. In fact, coach Fred Carmen's team had no success at all, being blanked for the first time, 8-0.

Allentown pitcher Kim Pullen struck out four and limited the usually powerful Little Tigers to three hits. PHS committed five errors which did little to help losing pitcher Cathy Burrough.

FIRST TIME EVER

PHS Tops Larries in Lacrosse. "I've been dying for this day," exalted Princeton High soccer coach Bill Cirullo, who said the first thing he was going to do was go out and treat himself to a steak dinner.

What really made life worth living for Cirullo was an 11-8 victory over visiting Lawrenceville School Monday, the first ever by PHS over the Larries. "It's a big, big game for us; it proved to us we can beat a good team," said Cirullo, whose Little Tigers are now 4-1.

One of the world's leading diesel car makers now has a big following.

A lot of people are finally waking up to the advantages of diesel cars. Including Detroit, which is lining up to re-tool its gas cars into diesels.

Well, they're lining up behind Peugeot, because we started building automotive diesel engines fifty years ago.

But why the sudden switch to diesels? Economy. The Peugeot 504 Diesel has the best fuel economy of any compact, 34 mpg highway, 28 mpg city, 30 mpg combined.* And nationally, diesel fuel sells for about 10¢ a gallon less than unleaded regular.†

In addition, you'll never have to pay for a tune-up. Because the 504 Diesel has no points, choke, distributor, carburetor, condenser, coils, resistors or spark plugs.

So it's no wonder that a lot of people are coming to us for diesels. If we were good enough to be a world leader when diesels weren't fashionable, we're certainly good enough to be a world leader when they are.

*EPA Estimates transmission M4. Actual mileage depends on where and how you drive, optional equipment, car maintenance and other variables.

Big 3 Title in Track

Princeton's homeless track team, which can't use Palmer Stadium until the new $350,000 composition surface is installed, is doing very well for itself elsewhere. Two weeks ago, the Tigers played host to Harvard at Lawrenceville School and upset the well-regarded Crimson, 83 to 71.

Last Saturday at New Haven, Yale fell victim to the Orange and Black by a decisive 104 to 59 margin, the triumph giving Princeton its first Big Three championship in the sport since 1972. The Tigers' ninth consecutive victory over Yale in the sport was marked by 13 of 16 first places.

With completion of the Swedish-made track late this spring, Palmer Stadium will once again become the scene of top-flight meets. Expectations are that both the Heptagonal and IC4-A championships will be staged here within the next two or three years.

news in future years, too. The PHS jayvee team also defeated the Lawrenceville jayvees, 3-1, for its first Lawrenceville win ever.

PHS will travel to Columbia Saturday for a 1 p.m. contest and will then play host to Livingston on Monday at 4.

For three periods Monday, PHS and Lawrenceville battled each other furiously. The Little Tigers, as they had last year, jumped to an early lead, enjoying a 4-1 margin after the first period. Lawrenceville, however, tied it at 5 at the half, aided by goals by Princeton resident Jay Budd.

A shot by Pierre Muri, two minutes and four seconds into the third period, regained the lead for PHS but Kip Sparrow, a short time later, intercepted a pass near the PHS goal, went one-on-one against PHS goalie Ian Broadwater and scored for Lawrenceville.

When Budd scored again to give Lawrenceville the lead for the first time, 7-6, Cirullo called time out to rally his team. With 3:16 left in the period, PHS worked the ball around nicely in front of the cage and Johnny Morris slammed in his second goal to tie the game again. Then with 17 seconds left, Bobby Campbell scored for PHS to make it 8-7.

4th Goal by Campbell. The final period was all Princeton. Campbell scored his fourth goal of the game, junior Tom Lion his first and Muri his second while PHS was blanking Lawrenceville.

"Campbell is the story as far as our goal output," said Cirullo. "He kept bringing us back. He did a fantastic job of putting the ball in the cage."

"I think we outran them and outthrustled them in the last quarter," Cirullo continued. "We really stress conditioning and it helped us tremendously today." Cirullo also felt Princeton's rides, which shut off Lawrenceville's fast break, were a contributing factor.

"Good game," said Larry coach Marshall Chambers to Cirullo after the game. "You played well, your kids deserve it."

Also scoring goals for PHS were Doug Firstenberg and Jim Rosenberg. Sparrow led Lawrenceville with four. Like Budd he is a Princeton resident. Together they accounted for seven of the losers' eight goals.

PHS TRACKMEN WIN
Lawrenceville Relays Wednesday. The Princeton High School track team evened its Colonial Valley Conference mark at 1-1 last week by crushing winless Lawrence High, 100½ to 30½. The Little Tigers took 12 of 15 events.

PHS will next participate in the annual Lawrenceville Relays, which will be held this Wednesday at Lawrenceville's Lavino Field House. The field events will begin at 2, the flat races at 3:30.

Tuesday, the Little Tigers will entertain West Windsor at 3:45 in its third CVC contest.

Mike Fuschini continued his dominance in the 100 and 220 for the Little Tigers, winning both events against Lawrence in 10.8 and 24.8. He led a PHS sweep in the 100, followed by teammates Rob Wyland and Oscar Brown. Lance Phox was second in the 220 with a time of 26:13.

Other first-place winners for PHS were Brad Olgilvie, mile (4:57); Wyland, 440 (54.8); Bernie Chen, 330 hurdles, (45.3); Brown, 880 (2:14.6); John Kellogg, 2-mile (10:37.5); Mike King, discus, (115-11¼); Tony Intartaglia, javelin (143-2); Andy Logan, high jump (5-8); Mario Tamasi, long jump, (18-6½) and Bob Ayling, pole vault, (11-0).

PHS also swept the vault and the discus. The Cardinals' lone triumphs came in the 120 hurdles, where Ken Field nipped Princeton's Logan and Chen; the shot, where Adam Bethea's toss of 44-4½ bettered those of Paul Hoad (43-4) and Intartaglia (40-2-3) and the mile relay.

Other seconds for PHS were John Perkins in the 440, Kevin Dede in the 2-mile, Gabe Sasso in the discus, Tamasi in the javelin, Mark Knudsen in the vault and Lou Snijders in the 880.

In reporting the outcome of the Mercer County Relays held a week ago, mention was not made that the PHS trio of Brown, Fuschini and Perkins won the sprint medley.

HUN NINE EXPLODES

For 12-2 Win. "If you get ahead, you can do so many things," observed Hun baseball coach Bill McQuade last week, after his team had ambushed Lawrenceville School, 12-2.

"We got in front early and it kind of loosened us up; the kids came through." Hun combined an opening error, hit batsmen, walk and four singles in the first frame to take a 4-0 lead off Larry pitcher Ted Fish. The Raiders added five more in the sixth to win their second game of the season.

Hun (2-5-1) has four contests this week, starting with Academy of New Church here Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

Friday, Hun will be at Lawrenceville is just like a Ewing or Hamilton to us."

Admiral Farragut, host Newark Academy in a Saturday game at 1 and then oppose Gill-St. Bernards away on Tuesday.

Fred Wollman was the winning pitcher for Hun, evening his record at 2-2. He had a no-hitter until a bloop single in the fifth, winding up with a three-hitter. He walked four. "He pitched a super ball game," said McQuade.

"The kids were whooping it up," McQuade continued. "It's always a big win for us to beat Lawrenceville;

The key to Hun's season, reported McQuade, is to have his younger players come through offensively. They did against Lawrenceville for the first time this season and that is what made the outcome so satisfying for McQuade.

Sophomore centerfielder Dave Iorio led Hun at the plate with a double and triple and two RBIs. Tommy Zahn, sophomore infielder, had two hits, and Dave Wheaton,

REGISTRATION NEARS

For Little League Baseball. Little League baseball, under the auspices of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association, has announced its 1978 schedule, registration dates and new sponsors.

The program for boys and girls from 9 to 12 will have registration on Sunday, May 7 from 12 to 2:30 and on Saturday, May 13, from 12 to 3. At both sessions at Grover Park field, boys and girls will have an opportunity to run the bases, catch and throw. Players who participated last year on a team do not need to re-register at this time.

The registration fee for the program is $10, which includes a team picture. Each parent will be asked to certify his or her child's age. In order to be eligible, a player must be 9 by August 1 and not 13 by the same date.

Checks will be accepted and should be made payable to Princeton Youth Baseball Association or P.Y.B.A. After registration, each child will be placed on a team and the regular 14 - game season will begin on Monday, June 5. Games are played on Mondays and Wednesdays at 6 p.m. at the Community Park fields. The season ends on July 24 with no games on Monday, July 3.

All the teams are sponsored by Princeton area organizations or merchants. Joining the ranks of the sponsors this year will be Century 21 - Carnegie Realty, Inc. with real estate offices in Princeton and West Windsor. The team will be coached by Dave Cassidy.

The Eagles, under George Pierre's leadership, will be seeking to repeat as champions. Other sponsors who will be contending for the title are Roma Eterna, Engine Company No. 1, Post 76, The Italian - American Sportman's Club, the Elks and Engine Company No. 3.

For further information, call John Dumont (924-9247) or Clark Lennon (924-7242).

REGISTRATION SET

For WW Swim Programs. Registration for swimming programs supervised by the West Windsor Recreation Commission will be held Saturday, May 13, from 9 to noon at the Municipal Building.

The Whalers swim team under the direction of Cathy Farley is a competitive program for those wishing to compete in the Princeton Area Swimming and Diving Association and A.A.U. state swimming meets. A prerequisite is ability to swim at least one lap of the pool and be between 6-18.

The summer children's swim lessons, under the leadership of Jane Cox, are recommended for children of all ages and abilities. They follow Red Cross guidelines and are divided into beginners, advanced beginners and intermediate. There are three sessions, each will run five days a week for two weeks.

For further information, call the Recreation office, 799-2400.

HOLTZMAN IS VICTOR

In Laser Races. Winner in the Laser class in Sunday's races on Carnegie Lake was Bob Holtzman, with John Henderson and Rick Ober runners - up. Twelve boats competed.

Ed Metcalf took first place honors in the Sunfish class with Walt Gibson second and Orrin Pierce third.

With the weather turning warmer, more sailors are appearing for the Sunday race series which starts at 2. All area Laser and Sunfish sailors are invited to participate. For information, call Dick Jessor, 921-8106.

'66 TEAM WINS, 6-0

In Soccer. On the opening day of Central Jersey Youth Soccer League competition Sunday, traveling teams from the Nassau Soccer Association won one game, tied one, and lost two.

The win was gained by the '66 team which blanked the Princeton Soccer Club's '66ers, 6-0. Scoring two goals each for Nassau were Andy Bing and Peter Wendell. Peter Smith and John Bolster added single tallies.

In '64 team play, Nassau and Princeton fought to a 1-1 tie; Duncan Mackenzie scored for Nassau on a rebound. The Nassau '63 and '67 teams fared less well, losing to Hamilton Post 313, 11-0, and West End '67, 13-0 respectively.

LEAGUE PLAY BEGINS

For Princeton Soccer Club. Teams in all six leagues of The Princeton Soccer Club's 1978 spring program were in action during the week - end, as competition began in all age groups. League play will continue every Saturday until the end of the season.

From each of the four oldest leagues, the Club has selected traveling teams to compete in The Central Jersey Youth Soccer Association.

The senior high boys, coached by Richard Broad and Jack Huckel, will open their season against Westport (Connecticut) PAL on May 13. Members include high school standouts Mike Walters and Andy Sanford from PDS, Ron Celestin from Princeton High, and Ken Zeitler and Mike Chaiko from Hun. Chris Bundy, Jeff Senich, John Pierson, Bill Mitchell, Scott Phillip, and Joel Dreskin will play defense, while Chris Moran, Jeff Patterson, Tim Jennings, Brian Bullock, and Dave Connell will play attack. Peter Bordes, Chris Wallace and Brian Wood will battle for the goalkeeping job.

The club also has a strong reserve including Jack Gaudioso, Neil Tucker, Rob Taylor, Larry Pierson, Paul Tattory, Chris Oates, and Doug D'Autrechy.

PDS NOW 5-1

In Lacrosse. Two more victories last week, 9-6 over a strong Pingry team, and 10-6 over a weaker Rutgers Prep squad, boosted the record of the Princeton Day lacrosse team to 5-1. The Panthers are in fourth place in the eight - team league.

The rain - out of last Wednesday's contest against Princeton High gave the Blue and White the advantage of not having to play two difficult games back - to - back. Last year PDS nipped the Little Tigers, but then lost to Pingry.

This time the Panthers were ready, albeit a little late, because of a mix - up with their bus. Arriving late for the game, they were hit with a 30-second bench penalty, which the home team quickly converted into a 1-0 lead. Princeton Day soon tied the score, and then went ahead 2-1. Pingry managed to deadlock it at two all, but another Panther goal put them ahead to stay.

Rob Olsson led the attack with four goals, dominating the face - offs. John Sweeney had two, and Mike Shannon, Will Kain, and Tim Murdoch had one apiece. Lucky Pyne played an outstanding game in the goal, making 21 saves. "He did a terrific job," coach Bob Krueger reported.

This past Monday, PDS played generally uninspired lacrosse against Rutgers Prep, but came away with its fifth win. It was 7-5 at the half, but thereafter the Panthers stiffened on defense, permitting the losers just one more goal.

Seven players shared in the scoring, with Olsson, von Oehsen and Kent Wilkinson tallying twice, Shannon, Sweeney, Chris Price and Neil Munroe, once. Two B division teams are next on the schedule, Montville Wednesday away, and Delbarton, Friday at home at 3:45.

PDS NINE SPLITS

Record Now 5-3. Dave Barondess followed Mike Walters' no-hitter against Montgomery Township with a pitching gem of his own last Tuesday, twirling a three-hit shutout against Saddle River, as the Panthers whipped last year's Division B finalists 7-0.

Barondess was in complete control all the way, scattering three harmless singles, while striking out eight and walking two. His battery mate, Jay Nusblatt, led the Blue and White attack with three hits. Walters contributed two, and Joe Lapsley had a pair, including two RBIs. PDS gave Barondess all the runs he needed in the first, when it pushed across two; then added five more in the sixth.

A soggy field caused the postponement of Friday's away game against Delbarton, but this past Monday, the Panthers more than met their match against powerful Northern Burlington, a Group Three High School. Walters was on the mound, but the opposition teed off for 11 runs, while the Panthers could muster just three.

That gave Princeton Day a 5-3 mark so far, with a home game against Gill - St. Bernard scheduled for Wednesday and an away contest with Pingry set for Friday

TO MODEL KIMONOS:
Robin Sisson, formerly of Japan, will model kimonos like this formal wedding costume Sunday at the Nassau Inn.

the traditional ceremonies are Momoyo Toyoda, Sooja Havens, Nobuko Manabe, and Hiroko Yoshikawa. Paul Walsh, a student of the tea ceremony, will assist.

The traditions and care of the kimono will be discussed, highlighting design, fabric, form, storing and folding. A group of Princeton women, including Nancy Pritchard, Millie Harford, Rita McDowell, Teresa Carpenter, Karen G. Cohen, Betty Steele and Joanne Mohrman, will model, as well as Robin and Chris Sisson of Madison and Lalor C. Ferrari of New York City. Formal and informal kimonos will be shown in a variety of ways.

Various antique accessories will be part of the setting. The public is invited. Tea will be served.

ANNUAL MEETING SET

YWCA's National Director to Speak. Mrs. Sara - Alyce P. Wright, Executive Director of the National Young Women's Christian Association, will be the speaker at the Princeton YWCA Annual Membership meeting on Thursday, April 27, at the YWCA on Paul Robeson Place. The meeting occurs during National YWCA Week.

Board members Fannie Floyd and Lee King, coordinators of the meeting, plan a social hour at 6:30 followed by dinner. All members are invited and may call the YWCA, 924-4825, for reservations. There is a charge of $5.

Newly-elected members of the board of directors and the 1978 - 79 nominating committee will be introduced.

Mrs. Wright's work with the National YWCA began before 1950 and she has served as a consultant on teenage program and as associate executive director of the City of New York before assuming her present post in 1974. She was named "Distinguished Pennsylvanian" in 1975 and presently is a board member of the National Conference on Social Welfare; vice-president, board of the National Assembly of National Voluntary Health and Welfare Organizations, Inc.; and was recently elected to the board of the National Center for Voluntary Action.

SHRUB SALE UNDERWAY

By Soroptimists. The semi-annual tree and shrub sale of the Soroptimist International is now under way, with delivery scheduled for Saturday, May 6, at the Princeton Shopping Center. More than 10,000 trees and shrubs have been sold by the organization over the last several years, all at a small mark up over wholesale cost.

Offered this year in one-gallon containers at $3.75 each are Andromeda, Hemlock, Ilex Convexa, Ilex Glabra, Ilex Helleri, Japanese Black Pine, Mugo Pine, P.J.M.
